

Dow Chemical
Head, Wife
Die In Ontario
Plane Crash

London, Ont., March 31 (AP)—Dr. Willard H. Dow, 52, president of the Dow Chemical Co., in Midland, Mich., and three others were killed when their plane crashed and burned near here today.

Among the victims was Dow's wife, Martha.

Police identified the other victims as the pilot, A. J. Bowie (address unavailable) and Mrs. Calvin Campbell, 45, of Midland.

Mrs. Campbell's husband, 46, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital.

Burst Into Flames

Police said the private aircraft struck the ground one mile from the city airport at 10:55 a. m. It was near the village of Franschav.

Airport officials believed that icing conditions might have caused the crash.

The Dows are the parents of two children.

It was not immediately learned where the plane was headed.

Police said the aircraft struck a farmer's field and burst into flames.

The Dow Chemical Co. is one of the world's largest manufacturers of chemical products.

MORE THAN 100
HOGS KILLED IN FREIGHT WRECK

More than 100 hogs were fatally injured in the wreck of a Reading company freight train Wednesday night near Brandtville, about two miles northwest of Dillsburg, and about the same distance west of Rose Garden. Seven hundred others roamed the countryside after being freed from the wreckage. Attempts were made to round them up today.

Amos B. Cleckner, Reading trainmaster, said it was the worst wreck he had ever seen. Thirty cars of the 69-car train en route from Hagers-town to the Rutherford yards left the rails and piled up in a mass of twisted wood and steel. None of the train crew was injured.

Traffic Tied Up

Cleckner said that all rail traffic on the division would be tied up at least until noon today. Trains were being re-routed over the Cumberland Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad to Carlisle and then back to the Reading tracks on the other side of the wreck.

Both the east and westbound tracks, and a side track were torn up for 400 feet. The car which caused the wreck was the 13th. It was believed that a truck or axle broke. There were seven cars of hogs in the midst of the wreckage. Hogs in most of the cars were piled in a heap at the ends, and were slowly suffocating. Axes were used to chop them out. The freed hogs strayed many miles from the scene of the wreck.

Some Drowned

Many were tossed into Yellow Breeches creek. Some drowned. Others were badly injured. A veterinarian was called from Camp Hill. Officials of the Cumberland county home and other institutions were called to the wreck and given the pigs, slaughtered because of the injuries.

In addition to the swine, some of the wrecked cars contained lard, meat, whiskey and other valuable shipments. The loss was not estimated. Railroad officials said it would be several days before all three tracks were repaired.

Good Reading

The visit of the Comte de Paris to Gettysburg in the early nineties, and the subsequent visits to the battlefield and to Gettysburg college of other illustrious guests, are interestingly told in a special article by Dr. Charles H. Huber, director emeritus of the Women's Division at the college, in today's issue of The Gettysburg Times. Dr. Huber's account of the famous visitors appears on page 1 of the second section of The Times.

PROGRAM FOR MUSICAL FETE
IS ANNOUNCED

The program for the annual Adams county music festival, to be held in the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium at Gettysburg college Friday, was announced today by the music teachers of the county, in charge of the annual affair.

The first part of the program will include three selections by the junior high school chorus of 130 voices, "I Heard America Singing," by Peter de Rose; "Steal Away," a Negro spiritual, and "Cielito Lindo," a Mexican folk song. The chorus will be directed by Miss Betty Jane Greiman, New Oxford music supervisor. Miss Kathryn O'Boyle, Conewago township, will be the accompanist.

Earl Miller of Grantham college will lead the senior choruses. The mixed chorus of 120 voices will present "One World," by O'Hara; "Spanish Gardens," by David Haupt; "Music," by Klemm, and "Onward Christian Soldiers," an arrangement by Waring. Miss Dorothy Elgin, East Berlin, will be the accompanist.

Boys' Chorus

The boys' chorus will present the next part of the program, which will include "Roadways," by Will James, and "Climbin' Up the Mountain," an arrangement by Smith. This will be followed by a girls' group presenting "Dona Nobis Pacem," arranged by Wilson, and "Ezekiel Saw de Wheel," Noble Cain.

At the close of the vocal program, a massed band of 140 pieces under the direction of Philip Rayer of the Music Education department of Western Maryland college, will present the following:

"The Thunderer," John Philip Sousa; "Ariane," Boyer; "Gallant Marines," King; "Begin the Beguine," Porter; "Big Time Boogie," Moffett; "On the Mall," Goldman; "Mandalay," Buchtel, and "Herbert L. Clark's Triumphant March," Clark. The program will conclude with "The Star Spangled Banner."

Will Rehearse Friday

The best singers and musicians from every school district in Adams county have been chosen for this program, and under the direction of the guest conductors promises to be one of the best ever offered in this annual fete, the committee said.

The participants will rehearse all day Friday with their conductors. The concert will begin at 8 p. m. Tickets are being sold by all the county schools.

The eight school districts taking part are York Springs, New Oxford, Littlestown, East Berlin, Biglerville, Franklin township, Fairfield, Conewago township and Gettysburg.

CHURCH WOMEN
CONDUCT RALLY

Fifty women, members of the Women's Guild of Reformed churches of the Arendtsville-Biglerville charge, St. Mark's church, near Two Taverns, and Trinity church, Gettysburg, met Tuesday evening at the Gettysburg church for a spring rally.

Mrs. Howard S. Fox, president of the Gettysburg Guild, which acted as host, presided at a brief business session. The program was in charge of Mrs. Donald Fissel, who gave the call to worship. Mrs. C. T. Ziegler gave the Scripture reading and the meditation. Miss Yvonne Porry sang "Prayer." She was accompanied by Miss Alice Snyder, who also played for group singing. Mrs. Charles Kuhns served as leader for the litany.

Mrs. Fox gave a resume of the meaning of the sound motion picture, "My Name is Han," which was shown by Dr. Fox. The film portrayed the return of a Chinese family to its home after the war and showed how, after assistance in several ways from missionaries, Han, the father, gained a complete understanding of Christian living and joined other members of his family in the worship of God. The theme of the rally was "China." Many Chinese articles were on display. They are owned by Mrs. Granville Schultz, and were sent to her by her husband, Dr. Schultz, who

Miss McMillan Back
In Red Cross Office

Miss Margaret McMillan, who retired late in 1948 after many years of service with the Red Cross, has returned to the Red Cross office to take the place of Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington while the latter is recovering from the effects of a fall. Mrs. Pennington remains a patient in the Warner hospital after fracturing a bone in her back in a fall on the concrete steps of Huber hall 10 days ago.

Woman's Club To Meet In Elks Home

The April 13 meeting of the Woman's Club of Gettysburg will be held in the main dining room of the Elks Home, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, president, announced today.

The meeting was originally scheduled to be held in St. James church but was transferred to the YW because of Holy Week services. Due to a change in the program which includes the screening of two films, "The Telephone Hour" and "Party Line," a larger room was deemed necessary and the committee secured use of the Elks room.

MONTH ENDING
TODAY DRIEST
IN 39 YEARS

Today's showers seemed to have little chance of keeping the month ending today from going into the record as the driest March since 1910 when less than a half inch of rain fell. The total for this month until today's rains began was .87 inches. Measurable amounts of rain fell on only five other days.

Normal March rainfall is about three and a third inches.

The month also has been unusually warm with the month's average temperature of 42.6 degrees as compared with normal of 40.5 degrees.

Wednesday's high of 80 degrees was one of the few March 30's to reach such heights but in 1945 the mercury climbed to 85 degrees on the same date for an all-time record.

Wednesday's 80-degree reading was the highest for the month. The coldest day was March 19 when the temperature dropped to 16 degrees above zero. Wednesday was the third day of the month that saw a temperature of 70 degrees or above.

Freezing temperatures have been recorded on 16 days this month but no reports have been received of serious damage to the cold.

NEW OXFORD HI
WILL GIVE PLAY

The senior class of New Oxford high school will present a mystery-comedy, "Are You Mr. Butterworth?" April 6 and 7, at 8 p. m., in the New Oxford high school auditorium, Charles C. Taylor, supervising principal of the Lower Adams school system, announced today.

Produced by permission of Row, Peterson and company, the comedy has its setting in the Empire Hotel lobby, and involves the efforts of a Mr. Bashinsky, a jewelry salesman, to recover gems he has lost.

Included in the cast are Dale Auchey as "Dan Meredith," the desk clerk; John Harman as "Tommy," the bellhop; Bessie Griffin as "Kate," the elevator operator; Mary Ann Cook in the part of "Mrs. Benson," wife of the hotel manager; Fred Howe, portraying "Mack McGinnis," the house detective; Juene Wolf as "Virginia Blair," a waitress in the coffee shop; Gloria Horn, playing "Miss Arabella Van Cleave," a guest of the hotel; Maurice Myers, as "Leon Bashinsky," a jewelry salesman; Laurel Taylor, portraying "Helen Worth," an attractive girl; Regina Mummert in the part of "Sylvia Delaney," a show girl; Gloria Ecker as "Katrinka Hodeen," a scrub woman; William Berwager as "Mr. Butterworth," and Charles Deatrick as "Telegraph Boy." In addition a number of students have parts as other hotel guests. The play is being directed by D. Miriam Taylor.

G. R. Coulson, 20, Dies Of Leukemia

George Roy Coulson, 20, York Springs R. 1, died Wednesday at 12:40 p. m., at the Carlisle hospital from leukemia.

He was a son of George A. Coulson, Gardner R. D., and the late Maude E. (Sheats) Coulson. He was a member of Mt. Victory United Brethren church. The deceased was employed at the Eaton Diton Paper Mill, Mt. Holly Springs, until forced to quit January 10 due to ill health.

Surviving in addition to his father are his widow, the former Anna L. Griest; step-mother, Mrs. Margaret Coulson; two sisters, Mrs. Mark Snyder, Carlisle R. 1, and Mrs. Stella Kramer, Gardner R. 1, and one step-sister, Mrs. Leroy Books, Gardner R. 1.

Funeral services Saturday at 2:30 p. m. from the Pittenturf funeral home, York Springs, conducted by the Rev. Harry Lee. Interment in Sunnyside cemetery, York Springs. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

GRASS FIRE

The Cashtown fire company was called out about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire at the farm of Mrs. A. E. Rawlings, Orrtanna R. D.

Women Of Nine Nationalities
Form International Wives' Club
To Help Build World Peace

Women of nine nationalities living in Adams county have formed an International Wives club and discovered they can help each other learn about America and exchange interesting information about their native lands.

Formed to give an extra lift to the movement for world peace through international understanding, the organization already has received more than a score of foreign born women and are ready to welcome others—including DP's who may come into this county in the current movement of Displaced Persons from Europe.

The women meet the last Friday of each month in the Auxiliary rooms of the Albert J. Lentz post home of the American Legion, the women devoted their first meetings to comparing native foods and dress but now they will turn to a subject of particular interest to most of them—the procedure of naturalization as American citizens.

Members to date include: English, Mrs. Leonard Shealer, Gettysburg; Mrs. Joan Hartland and Mrs. H. Hartland, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Harry Ketterman, Biglerville; Mrs. William Timmins, Gettysburg; Mrs. Ada Woods, Fairfield; Mrs. Dora Donaldson, Fairfield; and Mrs. H.

C. Simpson, Orrtanna R. 1; Italian, Mrs. Eugene Riley, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Robert Martin, 40 West High street, and Mrs. Joseph Cat-chings, Biglerville R. 1; French, Mrs. George Martin; Czech, Mrs. Anna White; Philippines, Mrs. John C. Bowers, Gettysburg R. 2; Puerto Rico, Mrs. John Gonzalez, 239 Washington street; Greek, Mrs. Richard Leslie, Biglerville; Polish, Mrs. Lillian Dreger, McKnightstown, and Mrs. John M. McKendrick, 542 South Washington street, Austrian.

This local sponsoring committee has helped with the formation of the club: Mrs. William Sundermeyer, Mrs. Pearl Wiser, Miss Margaret McMillan, Miss Dorothy Foth, Mrs. Blaine Walter, Mrs. F. E. Griest, Mrs. Virginia Lawver, Mrs. Donald Sheely, Mrs. George Gilbert, Mrs. Grant Corbin, Miss Margaret Riley, Mrs. Jesse White, Mrs. Dunning Idle, Sr., Mrs. George Martin, Sr., Miss Reid Longanecker, Mrs. Edna Myers and Mrs. Isle Long-erhans.

Mrs. Corbin has been appointed secretary for the club and this committee is in charge of arrangements for the April meeting: Mrs. Walter, Mrs. Leslie, Mrs. Wiser, Mrs. Lawver, Mrs. White and Mrs. Myers.

Adams Countians May Hire
Displaced Ukrainians; Hold
Meeting Here Friday Evening

Residents of Adams county interested in obtaining displaced Ukrainians from U.S. camps in Europe were invited today to attend a meeting Friday night at 8 o'clock in the arbitration room at the court house.

Dr. Walter Gallan, executive director of the United Ukrainian American Relief committee, Inc., of Philadelphia, will be the principal speaker.

Dr. Gallan will tell of the work of this committee in arranging to bring natives of Ukraina who have lost their homes and possessions through Russian and Nazi occupation, to new jobs in this country.

DP Will Speak

John Stchepukiwsky, a former store owner in Lviv, Ukraina, before the Russians invaded the country, and the first Ukrainian to come to Adams county, will also speak. Mr. Stchepukiwsky arrived in this country in February, and is employed at the home of J. W. Bishop, near New Chester.

Friday night's meeting is being

Appeal To Red Cross Workers
To Make Their Final Reports

A final appeal to all Adams county solicitors in the 1949 campaign of the Red Cross to turn in their reports was made today by Philip M. Jones and Richard E. Dreas, co-chairmen of the annual drive for $11,185.

While the nation-wide drive of the Red Cross officially closed today, the campaign in Adams county was concentrated in the first 10 days of March and now only $902.35 remains to be raised to reach the goal.

District chairmen were asked today to check on solicitors in their territory who have not submitted final reports so that the county figures may be completed as soon as possible.

BULLETINS

Washington, March 31 (AP)—President Truman declared today that he is confident the Atlantic pact will be ratified by the Senate. He said the defense alliance is absolutely necessary.

The President took this position at a news conference when he was told that Senator Taft (R-O.) has questioned the advisability of going into the pact. He said he thought the majority of the senators would go along with him.

Washington, March 31 (AP)—President Truman insisted today that Congress provide the full $5,580,000,000 sought by the administration for the European Recovery program.

The President declared at his news conference that this amount is necessary to run the European Recovery program. He said it had been worked out very carefully. The European Recovery program, he said bluntly, should not be cut at all.

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe Woods today ordered a survey of landlord incomes. The findings will determine what rent increases are to be granted under the new control law.

Trudy Hall juniors and Georgiana dresses have arrived at the Smart shop, 22 Carlisle street.

COMMITTEE TO BUILD DIAMOND
IN "REC" PARK

The Gettysburg Recreation Association today announced a number of activities, including the establishment of a committee to construct a baseball diamond on the recreation park area; plans for closing ceremonies in connection with the night school, and an opportunity for the public to check its "driver reaction time."

Named to the committee on the construction of a baseball field are: Henry T. Bream, chairman; John Teeter, Chief of Police Robert C. Harper and William E. "Johnny" Knox. Recreation Association President Richard A. Brown said the committee will have the job of facilitating the establishment of the diamond in the park area south of Breckenridge street.

Final School Session

The final meeting for the some 200 undergoing instruction at the Recreation Association sponsored night school at the high school will be held this evening. At 9 o'clock an "open house" will be held to permit the students and general public to visit the various classes and view the projects developed by the students.

At 9:30 o'clock a final assembly will be held at the high school. The program will include music by the 22-vocal Community choir under direction of Richard Shade and the showing of slides of various local scenes made by members of the photography class taught by Walter Lane at the night school.

Persons in Gettysburg Saturday night will have a chance to test their reaction time at the recreation center in the basement of the First National bank building between 8 and 9 o'clock, the association announced.

To Test Reaction Time

The test will be made by a "reactometer" provided by the Aetna Insurance company. To take the test a person is seated before a screen and has before him a regular automobile brake pedal and accelerator pedal. A number of lights are shown on the screen. When the accelerator is pushed, as in driving, a light glows green. The operator of the reactometer can flash various colored lights, with the "driver" scheduled to slam on the brakes when the light turns red. The length of time a "driver" needs to "hit the brakes" after the light flashes red shows the "reaction time" of the person taking the test. Cards given to the person being tested show just how far a car would go during the "reaction time" at various speeds. Jack Cessna will operate the reactometer.

Blanks Available

Application blanks may be obtained at the meeting or from Mr. Bishop, stating the job opportunity, type of home offered and number of displaced persons desired. Homes or room, and board, must be provided, and after the displaced person has proven his or her ability for the position, the prevailing rates of pay must be paid.

Mr. Bishop said today that 120 trained nurses will arrive in Baltimore from Europe shortly. They are on board a boat en route from overseas for jobs in Maryland.

KNIGHTS LIST
COMING EVENTS

A wide schedule of special activities of the Knights of Columbus was announced at the regular meeting of Gettysburg council, in the Knights of Columbus rooms, Center square, Wednesday night.

Sunday evening the first degree will be exemplified in St. Andrew's hall, Waynesboro, for membership candidates of Gettysburg and Waynesboro councils. On Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the third degree will be given in the Knights of Columbus auditorium in Harrisburg, in charge of District Deputy Burke of Hazleton. The first and second degrees will be conferred soon after Easter for all candidates of Gettysburg council.

A meeting of all grand knights and district deputies, with chairmen of state council committees, from the archdiocese of Philadelphia, and the dioceses of Harrisburg and Scranton, has been called by Dr. Daniel P. Nolan, of Latrobe, state deputy, to be held in Philadelphia on April 9, at 3 p. m. The state deputy, state chaplain, and chairman of all five state committees will address the meeting.

Convention In York

The 52nd state convention of Pennsylvania will convene in York May 8, 9 and 10, in all probability preceded by the third degree on Sunday, May 8, in the Knights of Columbus ballroom, in charge of State Deputy Nolan.

The following Sunday, May 15, a new collegiate council of the order will be formally instituted at St. Vincent's Archabbey and college, Latrobe, Pa., in charge of State Deputy Nolan. Dr. Nolan is a graduate of Notre Dame university, and now head of the science department of St. Vincent's college. Seventy-five applications are already signed for membership from the student body of the college. The membership committee of the state council expects to report nearly 5,000 new members in Pennsylvania during the past year.

YOUNGSTER INJURED

Werdly Jo, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Salter, Gettysburg R. 3, was treated at the Warner hospital for a sprain of her left leg received in a fall from a sliding board.

Just arrived another shipment bright and gay millinery for Easter; also newest hosty and handbags. Kuhn's millinery, 130 Chambersburg street.

Just received all-matt wardrobe, $16.95. Leinhardt Brothers, 28-32 Baltimore street, Hanover.

More Geese
Fly Over Town

Flocks of wild geese, north-bound from the Carolinas to the summer feeding grounds in Canada, awoke many residents of Gettysburg early this morning with their "honking" as they flew and circled over the town.

The geese flew low, and were plainly visible as they crossed and recrossed the town. Usually flying in high, V-shaped formations, and on a direct line from south to north at this time of the year, the early morning migrators were bunched or in rough formation, and seemed to be searching for other flocks or a place to alight and rest.

One theory advanced today was that they had been attracted by the lights. The first flights were heard about 11 p. m. and the "honking" continued until 4 a. m.

INVITE LEGION AND VFW POSTS
TO MAY 30 FETE

All American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts in the districts to which the Gettysburg posts belong will be invited to participate in the Memorial Day activities here May 30, the Memorial Day committee decided Wednesday evening at a meeting held in the court house.

The invitations will be sent through the local VFW and Legion posts. Both the local VFW and Legion promised to secure musical organizations to take part in the May 30 parade, Arthur J. Roth, commander-elect of the VFW and Lawrence M. Sheads, representing the Lentz Legion post reported at Wednesday's session.

Invite Local Band

John Zimmerman, representing the United Spanish War Veterans, was assigned to invite the Blue and Gray band to participate in the parade and T. J. Winebrenner, chairman of the committee, was selected to contact the Gettysburg high school band to take part in the parade and play the dirge when the school children strew flowers on the graves in the National Cemetery.

The firing squads of the Lentz Legion post and the local VFW will be combined to fire a volley in the cemetery, it was decided.

Jesse E. Snyder was appointed treasurer of the committee with authority to select a group to solicit funds for the annual event, to cover expected expenditures of the committee.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the call of the secretary.

'John Loves Mary' To Be Repeated Tonight

"John Loves Mary," a three-act comedy by Norman Krasna, presented by the Owl and Nightingale club of Gettysburg college, was enthusiastically received by a capacity audience at the recreation hall on the campus Wednesday evening.

Directed by Dr. Richard Arms, the play will be repeated this evening.

The plot revolves around a returning veteran and his fiancée.

Included among the cast are Lillian Mickle, New Oxford, as Lily Herbish, the English girl; Sebastian Hafer, Gettysburg, as General Harwood Biddle, and Gloria Ecker, Gettysburg, as Mrs. Phyllis McKinley. Others in the cast are Lois Kerstetter as Mary McKinley, Robert Day as Oscar Dugan; Henry Graybill as Fred Taylor; Frederick Hoenninger as John Lawrence; Richard Rice as Senator James McKinley; Dwight Young as Lt. Victor O'Leary, and Jesse Hagen as George Beechwood.

Says Marshall Plan
Helps In Germany

The Marshall plan has eased conditions in Germany, according to a letter received by John Zimmerman, Gettysburg, from a nephew, Heinz Dreher, who lives in Rautenberg, Hanover, in the British zone of occupation.

"We received your letter and your gifts parcel with many thanks," reads the letter. "We were very glad at the beautiful things that you sent."

"By the Marshall plan it is becoming better in Germany," the letter continued. "After the financial reform the life is also becoming more endurable. It is to be hoped that the American government does not leave us in the lurch against the Russians."

$30,000 ESTATE

The will of Aaron M. Nace, late of Berwick township, has been entered for probate at the office of the county register and recorder, Melvin Nace, Hanover R. 3, is administrator of the more than $30,000 estate.

Just received all-matt wardrobe, $16.95. Leinhardt Brothers, 28-32 Baltimore street, Hanover.

SHEELY HEADS
SPECIAL GROUP
ON OBSERVANCE

Judge W. C. Sheely, president judge of the Adams county court of common pleas; Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times, and Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Gettysburg National Military park, were named today as a special affairs committee for the observance of the 86th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Independence Day, June 30, July 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Announcement of the appointment of this committee was made by James S. Shenk, co-chairman of the general committee of the Gettysburg fire department, which is sponsoring and arranging the celebration.

Have Army Band

The special affairs committee, Mr. Shenk said, will act as a supporting committee to the military affairs committee, headed by Col. William G. Weaver, vice president of the fire company. Other members are Joseph E. Codori, fire company treasurer, and Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, a member.

Judge Sheely is a life member of the fire company, and Mr. Roy and Dr. Coleman are honorary members.

The firemen have been promised an outstanding speaker and the Army Ground Forces band from Ft. Meade for a program on Sunday, July 3. Other events, including parades, church services and demonstrations of army equipment, including flights of jet bombers, are being arranged.

LITTLESTOWN
CHAMBER WANTS
BETTER CONTROL OF SOLICITORS

There was considerable discussion at a meeting of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday evening in the Alpha Fire hall, when Theron Spangler gave a report of the committee previously appointed to look into regulations for outside solicitors coming into the borough. It was decided to have the committee contact the borough council to see if an ordinance can be drawn up providing that these solicitors be referred to this Chamber of Commerce committee. The committee, after proper investigation, would issue a card to legitimate solicitors authorizing them to solicit, it was proposed. In addition to Mr. Spangler, chairman Harvey Pettyjohn and Roy Renner comprise the committee.

Wilbur A. Bankert reported for the road committee of which he is chairman. Mr. Masser of Hanover appeared at the meeting in the interest of those who are preparing a Hanover directory to ascertain whether Littlestown would be interested in having a section in the directory. The project was turned down as it was felt that it would be of no benefit to the community.

Films Are Shown

President John Bloom presided over the meeting and Paul Bigelow presented the secretary's report. There were 25 members in attendance. Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Paul Bowman, Earl Bankers and Charles W. Weikert. Several reels of comedy films were shown to the group by John D. Basehore.

There will be an important meeting of the trustees of Centenary Methodist church in the church tonight following the Lenten service. There will be Holy Communion in St. Aloysius Catholic church Friday at 5:45 and 7 a. m., with mass at 7:30 a. m. There will also be Stations of the Cross and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 2:45 and 7:30 p. m.

LABOR PLANS BIG POLITICAL PUSH IN 1950

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Top state and national leaders of the American Federation of Labor met today to gear their political machine for a powerful drive in the 1950 elections.

Their object is to build up their political arm—Labor's League for Political Education—into a more effective weapon in the next Congressional elections than it was in helping elect President Truman in 1948.

Leaders said they had to operate on a "hit or miss" basis in many areas last fall because the league was new and inexperienced.

However, the AFL men claim that even where they spent only a small amount of money and effort the attempt showed good results.

Plan Two Steps

"We want to further develop and improve the organization we started last year," League Director Joseph D. Keenan told a reporter. "We'll exchange views and take definite steps toward establishing tighter organizations in each state, as well as closer coordination between the state and national organizations."

AFL leaders want to have a hand in every 1950 Congressional campaign. In general the AFL's political planning falls into two steps:

1. Building up organizations and educating voters to AFL political views during the next year or so.
2. Then actually contributing money to Congressional campaigns in 1950 to pay expenses of AFL-endorsed candidates.

Part of the educational campaign will be a national weekly political newspaper. First issues are to be published within the next few weeks.

Home "Ec" Club Is Host At Party

The Harrisburg Road Home Economics club met at the Great Coneywago Presbyterian chapel Wednesday afternoon and had as guests the Good Hope club. The program opened with a song, followed by scripture reading.

Humorous readings followed, and the program was closed with a song. Refreshments were served. Those present included Miss Mary Jane Mickey, Adams county home economics representative, Mrs. Charles Fidler, Mrs. Earl Smith, Mrs. Ruth Ebert, Mrs. Warren Boyer, Mrs. Glenn Rider, Mrs. Frederick March, Mrs. Ed Taughnbaugh, Mrs. John Mason, Mrs. Wilbert Wisler, Mrs. Charles Elliff and daughter, Mrs. Charles Spicer, Mrs. Levi Spangler and son, Mrs. Dale Guise, Mrs. Kenneth Guise, Mrs. Gale Bell, Mrs. Earl Guise, Mrs. Robert Bell, Mrs. Thomas and sons, Mrs. Elmer, Mrs. Ebert, Mrs. Lady, Mrs. K. Thomas, Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Klocker and son, Mrs. Grace, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Orner and Mrs. Craybill.

Organize Camera Club For Community

The Camera Club of Gettysburg was formed at a meeting Monday night at the home of Charles Rider, Gettysburg R. D. Members of the organizing committee include Paul Sterner, Gettysburg, chairman; Charles Rider, treasurer; Richard Trostle, Gettysburg, secretary; and David Garfinkle, Gettysburg, and Chester Ballard, Gettysburg.

These men said they are interested in forming a large club as possible, and extended an invitation to all amateur photographers to join. The next meeting will be held in the recreation association rooms in the basement of the First National bank.

Application blanks may be obtained at Dave's Photo shop, Chambersburg street. The membership fee is $3, and members are required to submit at least 10 prints during the year for judging by the club. It is hoped to affiliate the organization with the Photographic Society of America, a spokesman said.

Countian Is Fined $150 In Maryland

Charles P. Crouse, Littlestown, recently paid a fine of $50 and costs on a charge of reckless driving before Magistrate Vincent A. Tubman, Westminster. A fine of $100 was imposed and suspended on a charge of operating while under the influence of liquor.

Charles A. Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, forfeited $25 collateral on a charge of exceeding the 50-mile speed limit.

STATE CHORUS MEMBER

Miss Joan Enck, a member of the senior class at Biglerville high school, left for Pottsville Wednesday to take part in a series of concerts by the all-state chorus. On Saturday evening her mother, Mrs. Warren K. Enck, and Prof. and Mrs. Charles L. Yost, Biglerville, will attend the final concert of the series.

PLAN TO MARRY

Dale R. Brandt, York Springs R. 1, and Clara Marie Whitacre, Dillsburg R. 3, have filed application for a marriage license in Carlisle.

A marriage license application was filed Wednesday in Harrisburg by Kermit N. Sterner, Gettysburg, and Joan W. Murtter, Harrisburg.

Independent Cabs Run Again In Phila.

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—Independent taxicabs rolled again today in Philadelphia.

The 275 members of Local 156, Taxi Cab Drivers Union (AFL) voted unanimously yesterday to return to work, ending an eight-day strike.

Charles Pirolli, president of the union, listed "three important advances for the drivers" in the settlement. He said, however, wages would remain the same, at 50 percent of metered fares. The drivers had asked 51 per cent.

Seniority rights, severance pay of four weeks if a driver loses his job through creation of a partnership and an optional five-day working week during the summer months were the improvements listed by Pirolli in the new agreement.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wormley, 424 South Washington street, last Saturday afternoon in celebration of the 11th birthday anniversaries of their two children, Donald and Dolores. Games were played and refreshments served. The guests of honor received many gifts. Those present were Dolores Wormley, Susan Cullison, Ave Yingling, Corrine Schuhart, Betty Chrismer, Patsy Sanders, Dorothy Stape, Ida Marie Golden, Sandra Kay Bollinger, Donald Wormley, Eugene Bagot, Bobbie Hess, Earl Schuhart, Glen Weishaar, Jr., Mark Yingling, Raymond Hardman, Francis Althoff, Jr., Johnny Wormley, Mrs. Richard Gold, Mrs. Ivan Bollinger and Mrs. Charles Dillman.

WAG RIBS JOHNSON

Washington, March 31 (AP)—A picture of a bleak, uninhabited Arizona landscape was pinned to a Pentagon bulletin board yesterday.

Some wag put it up after Secretary of Defense Johnson warned that he plans to trim deadwood from the military establishment. The picture carried this caption: "The Pentagon, following changes ordered by the new secretary of defense."

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Ross A. Schriener, manager of the local A and P Market, will attend a conference at Philadelphia April 4 through April 8 on customer and employee relations. The conference will be attended by Atlantic division managers of units doing similar volumes of business.

STOCKS SLIP

New York, March 31 (AP)—Stock prices tipped downward in the market today. Trading activity contracted sharply after the two days of lull business which accompanied news of a cut in margin requirements to 50 per cent cash from 75 per cent. Losses ranged from fractions to around a point, with most in fractional territory.

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today a "tapering off" in prices may save this country from a future economic crash. Taft is drafting a minority report for the Senate-House Economic committee. In it he is expected to attack President Truman's proposals for standby price-wage controls and for government authority to building industrial plants.

REOPEN PROBE OF 1940 MURDER CASE

Pittsburgh, March 31 (AP)—Charles Johnston, chief of the Allegheny county detectives, said today he is awaiting arrival here of Ralph Thompson, 49, wanted for questioning in the 1940 slaying of a Penn State co-ed. Thompson was arrested in Vancouver, British Columbia, by FBI agents after a six-year chase.

Johnston said Thompson is wanted here in connection with jumping $12,000 bail while facing three morals charges in Allegheny county in 1943.

Capt. Andrew Hudock of the Greensburg state police barracks said he would come to Pittsburgh to question Thompson in the slaying of Rachel Taylor March 28, 1940.

The girl's body was found on the side of a road seven miles east of State College. Her skull was fractured and she apparently had been tossed from a speeding car.

DON'T PUT AWAY THAT OVERCOAT JUST YET

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—If you've been thinking about putting that top coat into moth balls until next fall, you can forget about it—for a few days anyway.

The Weather Bureau reported an overnight drop of 20 degrees to 50 degrees in the temperature across Pennsylvania. The bureau forecast that March would go out with raw northeasterly winds with occasional rains.

The noon forecast today brought up the possibility of snow flurries in the state tomorrow.

Occasional showers in Eastern Pennsylvania are expected to turn into snow flurries in the Poconos. Some rain mixed snow is the call for eastern and northern parts of Western Pennsylvania.

The cool weather will continue Saturday with moderating temperature on Sunday.

SYRIANS STAGE DEMONSTRATION

Damascus, Syria, March 31 (AP)—Small demonstrations were staged in Damascus streets today in support of the Army regime that deposed Syria's government in yesterday's bloodless revolt.

Schools and shops reopened and normal life resumed. Government offices conducted business as usual under the supervision of undersecretaries of the various ministries.

Brig. Husni Zayim, Army chief of staff who directed the dawn coup, continued negotiations with political figures on the formation of a new government.

There was no indication in this dispatch as to the fate of President Al Sayed Shukri Al Kuwaty and Premier Khaled Bey Azem. They were reported arrested yesterday along with the other cabinet ministers. The Army took over control of communications, implying possible censorship.

Just how the Army's well-engineered coup would affect scheduled Israeli-Syrian armistice negotiations was not made clear. Some observers believed policy on the touchy subject would not be disclosed until a new government is formed.

Brigadier Zayim said yesterday that Army rule would be "temporary" until a "democratic" government is established.

WEATHER COOLS ACROSS NATION

(By The Associated Press)

There was wet, windy and chilly weather for most of the western half of the country today as March made a lion-like exit.

Snow fell in parts of Nebraska, the Dakotas, Iowa and Minnesota. Snow blocked highways in some parts of Nebraska. Some schools were closed. High winds whirled huge drifts from the 23 inches of snow which fell at Hayes Center.

The fall at North Platte measured 15 inches. Winds reached a velocity of from 40 to 60 miles per hour in western Nebraska and parts of western Kansas last night.

Rain fell from Iowa eastward across most of the Great Lakes region. There were thunderstorms in the middle Gulf states.

Temperatures dipped below normal throughout the Rock Mountain states and in the Pacific northwest. The mercury dropped to seven above zero at Cheyenne, Wyo., and Denver's low was 15. It was around freezing over the snow belt.

Mild weather continued in the southeast section of the country as well as in most of the eastern states.

GOVERNOR SIGNS AUTHORITY BILL

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff today signed into law legislation creating a new general state building authority to finance a $147,000,000 public improvement program.

The Republican executive put his pen to the new law in the presence of Reps. Charles H. Brunner, Jr., House Republican leader, and Charles Smith, House GOP whip, the two sponsors of the measure.

It is the keystone of Duff's program for continued expansion of the state's mental hospitals. It will also provide funds for flood control, expansion of educational institutions and completion of the Schuylkill river cleanup. The work will be financed by bonds that will be amortized through rentals paid by state agencies.

A companion measure, creating a new highway and bridge authority to build up to $40,000,000 of major roads and bridges, was held up temporarily until some legal questions are cleared up.

The House also put off a final vote until Monday on Senate approved legislation broadening the powers of the state public school building authority. The action was necessary because the final bill had not reached lawmakers desks before the lower branch quit for the week.

Originally established in 1947, the authority has the right to build schools and rent them to local school authorities for as long as 40 years. The rentals will be used to pay off the bonds issued to provide construction funds.

9-YEAR OLD REFUGEE AND HER BROTHER, 4, WILL SEE CIRCUS

New York, March 31 (AP)—Nine-year-old Rose Gelbard stood and stared at the bright circus poster with the laughing clown one day. That night she wrote a letter. Although Rose, her parents and her brother, Jackie, 4, had arrived in this country only a week before as war refugees, her English was clear:

"Dear Ringling Brothers, I saw a picture with a funny clown and it says there will be a circus. Please, can I come to your circus. In the place I was before I came here to U. S. A., there was never circus or anything for us to laugh. Always we are running from war. My mother saw a circus. My mother says before the war we could see circus monkeys and everything and things to eat but I wasn't born then.

"I would buy a ticket but I am 9. I thought maybe you

PLANT BLAST FATAL
Madill, Okla., March 31 (AP)—A blast in a butane plant killed an oil chemist and burned seven other men, near here last night. J. R. Mahan, a plant worker, was burned on the face and hands when he tried to pull the chemist, J. S. Green, 47, from the succeeding oil fire before it was too late. But Green died 15 minutes later in the hospital.

STABBED BUT RECOVERS
Allentown, Pa., March 31 (AP)—Two weeks ago Mrs. Margaret Sokalsky was given little chance of living after being stabbed six times. But yesterday the 20-year old woman walked out of Sacred Heart hospital. Her estranged husband, Michael Sokalsky, 28, is in jail here awaiting hearing on charges of aggravated assault and battery with intent to kill.

TRAFFIC DEATHS
Chicago, March 31 (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths during the first two months of 1949 totaled 4,400, four per cent more than for the same period in 1948, the National Safety Council said today. The February toll for the nation was 2,090 or three per cent more on a daily average compared with a year ago.

Single Owner Now For J. C. Lower Co.

L. G. Conrad, Hanover, today became the sole owner of the John C. Lower company here.

Previously the stock in the company was owned by Conrad, Frank Martin and Daniel Ehrhart, also of Hanover, Mr. Conrad explained. The three also owned Ehrhart-Conrad, Inc., of Hanover.

Under the agreement reached between the three men, Ehrhart and Martin turned over to Conrad their shares in John C. Lower company and he gave them his shares in the Ehrhart-Conrad concern.

A son was born Tuesday at the Hanover hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Conway Dettinburn, New Oxford R. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Herman, Abbotstown, announce the birth of a daughter at the Hanover hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bair, Littlestown, announce the birth of a daughter at the Hanover hospital Wednesday.

ROUTINE BUSINESS

Only routine business was transacted by the Adams county commissioners at their meeting Wednesday, Commissioners' Clerk Clarence C. Smith reported today. Next Wednesday the commissioners will hold their regular session in the morning and in the afternoon will conduct a public sale of the old jail on East High street with Edwin Benner as auctioneer and Clarence Smith as clerk.

JOINS FRATERNITY

Miss Hylda Klinefelter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Klinefelter, Gettysburg R. 5, was initiated into the Alpha Phi chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta national social fraternity at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, last Saturday. Miss Klinefelter is also a member of the university choral society which recently gave a concert with the Trenton Symphony orchestra in Trenton, N. J., and recently broadcast on a nation wide hook-up.

County Truckers To Meet Tuesday

The Adams County Truckers association will hold a meeting Tuesday evening, April 5, at 8 p. m. at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Edward Stimpson, representative of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck association, will be the speaker. This is an important meeting, officers of the county association said, and all truckers are invited to attend.

CHURCH WOMEN

Mrs. Fox displayed books about Chinese people written by a missionary and his daughter.

At the business session of the Gettysburg Guild, delegates and alternates were named to attend the spring rally of the Nevins Regional Guild on May 4 at Jacobus, York county.

Those selected to attend as delegates are Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Kuhns and Mrs. Mervin E. Tipton. Alternates selected were Mrs. J. D. Eckert and Mrs. Donald Rebert. Mrs. Fox also announced a conference at Hood college, Frederick, from July 12 to 15. Mrs. Louise Hoffman explained the Women's Guild layette project for babies overseas. They go to Germany and Japan. The Guild members agreed to ask each mother attending the annual Mother and Daughter banquet at the church in May to bring an article of clothing for an infant so that several layettes may be started.

1948 Car Plates
Obsolete Tonight

Tonight at midnight will mark the deadline for the use of the 1948 automobile license plates. Operators using the old tags after that hour will be subject to arrest and prosecution. There will be no extension of the time limit.

The two Gettysburg justices of the peace, who obtain license plates for motorists upon request by having them brought over from Harrisburg each night, have been doing a rushing business, but this slackened off Wednesday and today. Many hundreds of other car owners obtain their tags by mail.

There were very few automobiles on the streets and highways today with the old license plates, indicating that most motorists did not wait until the last minute to put on the 1949 tags. The latter are good until March 31, 1950.

Remember How We Talked?

It went like this at the Hooper's the other night—Hap's eighteen-year-old daughter is talking about "a real gone guy—solid—out of this world, but def."

"Now what kind of language is that?" Hap barks. "Can't she speak English?"

"I'll translate it for you," Ma Hooper says, "in the language of the twenties, when you were about twenty years old. She simply means this fellow is the 'cat's whiskers.' Remember how we used to talk sometimes?" Hap went back to reading his newspaper.

From where I sit, it's easy to criticize the other person when we don't take a good long look at ourselves. Sure, there'll always be some differences. I'm fond of a temperate glass of beer and maybe you would prefer ginger ale—but let's just live and let live. Because when we go out of our way to find things to find fault with in others, chances are they can find a few in us, too.

ASHLEY, KANE WILL MEET FOR CLASS B TITLE

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—Ashley and Kane are the 1949 regional champions of the PIAA class B basketball play-offs.

The two high school quintets easily won their titles last night to succeed Irwin and Bridgeport as the ruling powers in the ranks of schools with enrollments under 500 students. The state championship will be decided next Tuesday night when the pair meet at the Farrell high school court.

The cage leaders walloped their regional rivals by almost identical scores. Kane turned back Everett, district 5 titlists, 55 to 32, at Altoona while Ashley recorded victory number 28 of the season by eliminating Kutztown, district 3, 53 to 30.

A good little man and a good big man provided the scoring punch for the winners.

For Kane it was Jim Thompson, a five-foot, seven-inch forward who sank 10 field goals in 14 attempts and scored a total of 22 points. Mickey McFarland, the losers' little sparkplug, tallied 18 points for Everett—more than the rest of his teammates' efforts put together.

John "Slim" Dankos, Ashley's rangy six-foot, five-inch center, was mainly responsible for the Rockets' high-powered attack as he contributed 26 points to pace the eastern champs from district 2.

Meanwhile, the impending battle between Aliquippa and York for class A state championship drew the attention of the House of Representatives at the state capital.

The legislators paused in their lawmaking to unanimously pass a resolution congratulating the two teams and their coaches on winning their regional titles Tuesday night.

The resolution was sponsored by Democratic Reps. Harry E. Seyler, York, and William B. Smith, Aliquippa, who coincidentally sit next to each other in the House chamber.

The unbeaten Quipmen and the hard-driving York White Roses meet for the state crown at Philadelphia's huge Convention Hall Saturday night.

DIMAGGIO SET FOR FULL YEAR

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 31 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankees' $90,000 "if," smiled as he peeled off a rock in the clubhouse at Miller Huggins field. The old toothy grin was back.

"I'm afraid I'll play another year. Every blankety-blank inning," he said. "It looks like I'll have to work for my money."

DiMaggio had just passed his first test with flying colors. The tender right heel that threatened to end his great career gave him no trouble in a six-inning chomp against Cincinnati. It was his first start.

"The pain is not completely gone," said Joe, "if it (the heel) improves a little more, I'll be very happy."

"After the first workout (March 1) I thought I'd have to hang up. Now I feel like I could play nine. I would have, too, but Casey Stengel said 'don't overdo it.'"

DiMaggio, the highest priced player in Yankee history at $90,000 per year, underwent an operation for removal of a spur from his right heel during the winter. Although it appeared completely healed, he overdid it in the first day of training.

After a hurried trip to Johns Hopkins for observation, DiMaggio was sidelined. Until yesterday he appeared in exhibitions only as a pinch hitter. He had not been too optimistic.

Training Camp Briefs

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 31 (AP)—Manager Eddie Sawyer brought his Philadelphia Phillies here today for their Florida finale against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Ken Trinkle and Hank Borowy were named by Sawyer to hurl the Exhibition.

Haines City, Fla., March 31 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics interrupted their 16-day homeward trek today to stop over here for an exhibition game with Newark of the International league.

The A's broke camp at West Palm Beach yesterday. They will reach Philadelphia April 15, the day they open their three-game city series with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 31 (AP)—Knocked back on their heels by an 11-4 thumping, the Pittsburgh Pirates were pulling themselves together for a better effort today in the second of their three games against the New York Giants.

Manager Billy Meyer indicated he will start little Vic Lombardi, one-time Giant killer.

Fairfield Cagers Down Littlestown

The basketball team of the Fairfield Reformed church defeated the Littlestown Reformed church cagers 30-26 in a game played Monday evening at Fairfield. Weikert looped 18 points for the winners while Crouse netted 13 for the Littlestown quintet.

ENGLAND WILL LEND RUSSIANS $36 MILLIONS

London, March 31 (AP)—Britain disclosed today it is planning to loan Russia 9,000,000 pounds ($36,000,000) so that Russia can buy non-military supplies from Britain in the next 12 months.

The disclosure came in budget estimates presented to the House of Commons.

The advance to Russia, the estimates said, was for "non-military supplies under wartime arrangements for which final contracts are being concluded."

A treasury spokesman said he believed the Russian advance is connected with a 1941 agreement with Russia for non-military supplies.

Use Old Agreement

The Russian figure was listed in the budget estimates under the general heading of "supply, food and miscellaneous services."

The Ministry of Supply, which procures armaments and directs atomic energy development, submitted a budget of 324,679,000 pounds ($1,408,716,000), compared with 317,000,000 pounds ($1,268,000,000) the previous year.

The new budget shows an increase of almost 10,000,000 pounds ($40,000,000) for research and development over the previous year.

Aircraft and aircraft supplies were slightly lower, but the budget for armament and vehicles was almost 19,000,000 pounds ($76,000,000) higher.

Treasury officials said the advance to Russia was in the nature of a loan. They said it was extended under a 1941 credit agreement.

Propose Changes In Liquor Laws

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—Special canteen licenses for the sale of beer and liquor were proposed today as part of a broad program to revise state laws on the licensing of clubs.

The canteen licenses would be issued by the state Liquor Control Board to branches or affiliates of national organizations with units in 25 states and state organizations and officers in each one of the states. Home associations of such organizations also would be eligible.

Each affiliate would be required to have 25 or more members and license fees would range from $50 to $200, depending on the membership.

Sen. A. H. Letzler (R-Clearfield), chairman of the Senate law and order committee and one of the three sponsors of the bill, said he would propose an amendment to the measure to impose a special quota of one for every 1,000 persons in a municipality for canteen licenses.

Camden, N. J., March 31 (AP)—Two little boys are disillusioned today—the buried treasure they found turned out to be the loot of some modern day robbers.

Frederick Dawn, seven, and Frank Anton, eight, went on a treasure hunt yesterday along Newton Creek. Digging through some metal boxes, they came on a number of watches, rings, a gun, bullets and a fireman's badge.

Some of the "treasure" they parceled out to playmates, and the rest they took home. Frank's mother,

Gets Life Term In Slaying Of Girl, 15

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—Life imprisonment faces a 39-year old nearly blind Philadelphia man for the slaying of a 15-year old high school girl.

Dominick J. Palo pleaded guilty in quarter sessions court yesterday to shooting Claire Depiso last December 1. Three judges took less than 10 minutes to fix the penalty.

Testimony disclosed the shooting occurred at the girl's home, where Palo boarded, after he had returned from an all night drinking party.

MORE TALK ON REPEALER BILL

Washington, March 31 (AP)—The House Rules committee went leisurely today into another round of talk about repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

Rep. Sabath (D-Ill.) critically called his committee's deliberation a filibuster, and one member agreed with him. Other members just grinned.

The question before the committee is when, and under what procedure, it will allow the House to begin debate on the administration's labor bill. Hearings started Tuesday.

Discussion has centered so far on whether the Taft-Hartley law should be repealed, Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.) of the Labor committee and Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) have declared that democratic candidates promised in their campaigns last fall to repeal the law, and they should get at it right away.

However, Rep. McConnell (R-Pa.), ranking Labor committee Republican, predicted yesterday the House will vote down any repealer that does not include most of the present Taft-Hartley provisions.

Salisbury, Md., March 31 (AP)—Four-year-old Paul J. Hastings, Jr., is feeling fine today, even though he fired a bullet through his head.

The bullet went in under his chin and came out through his ear.

Paul was riding in an automobile Saturday with his father, mother, and two brothers, when he found his father's .22-caliber pistol in the back seat. The gun went off.

The United States has about 40,000 new car dealers.

Mrs. Catherine Anton, became curious when she saw her son twirling an old fashioned watch on a heavy gold chain.

An investigation by police disclosed the "treasure" was merely buried loot from a half dozen robberies in southern New Jersey. Now the problem is to find the robbers.

BIG PLANE HITS POND ON FARM

Edgar Springs, Mo., March 31 (AP)—An air force C-47 crashed into a farm pond four and a half miles south of here during a storm last night. Six persons were reported aboard the craft but highway patrolmen at the scene have found no bodies or survivors.

The craft was en route from Patterson air base, Ohio, to Tinker Air Base, Oklahoma.

An air force spokesman at Scott Air Base, Illinois, originally said he understood secret documents were aboard the craft but later denied the statement after talking to Patterson field authorities. The duty officer at Wright Field, Ohio, declared: "We've been told not to give out any information regarding the subject of documents aboard."

Highway patrolmen left the scene around 2 a. m. (EST) and said army authorities had taken complete charge of the search. No further effort to recover bodies in the wreckage could be made until equipment arrived to pull the plane from the pond.

Names of the men aboard were withheld pending further check.

HOUSE PONDS TAX ON APPLES

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—The House took up consideration today of a proposal to impose a one-cent bushel tax on apples.

The $100,000 a year revenue anticipated from the levy would be used to promote and advertise Pennsylvania's apple industry. The tax would be imposed on producers for sale of more than 500 pounds of apples a year.

Sponsored by Rep. George A. Gooding (R-York), the measure has the backing of the Pennsylvania horticultural association.

A seven-man state apple board would be set up in the state Agriculture Department to handle the exploitation program. Other nearby apple states like Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia already have such programs.

The House appropriations committee, in approving the measure yesterday, allocated $10,000 to get the plan started. Once the program gets under way, it would be self-sustaining from the apple tax revenues.

Elmira, N. Y., was named for the daughter of an early settler, whose name is supposed to have echoed through the valley when her mother called her.

Gets Year In Jail For Taking Letters

Scranton, Pa., March 31 (AP)—Walter Leckebush, 52, of Stroudsburg will spend the next year in prison for stealing two letters from a box in the Stroudsburg postoffice.

Leckebush was sentenced yesterday after pleading guilty before Federal Judge John W. Murphy.

The letters, containing $4 and $3, were taken from the box of the Monroe County Tuberculosis Society January 26. Judge Murphy said Leckebush also admitted taking 18 to 20 other letters containing a total of $25 on previous occasions.

SECOND VICTIM DIES

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—A motorcycle-truck crash in nearby Yeadon claimed its second victim with the death of James Clark, 21, of Upper Darby. Clark, passenger on a motorcycle that crashed into a truck Monday, died yesterday. The driver, William Fryer, 33, of Yeadon, was killed in the crash.

RETURN FROM CONFER

Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, Gettysburg superintendent of schools, L. V. Stock, Upper Adams supervising principal and Charles I. Raffensperger, assistant county superintendent of schools, have returned from the convention of the American School Administrators association held at Philadelphia.

FRENCH READY ARMS DEMANDS

Paris, March 31 (AP)—France is reaching out for recognition as Western Europe's tough big brother and main defender in the event of war.

A cabinet spokesman said yesterday Foreign Minister Robert Schuman will demand that the French army be built up and armed heavily for this role under the North Atlantic Defense Alliance.

The statement came less than a day after Gen. Charles DeGaulle, a sharp critic of the government, had voiced similar demands, contending it would be "a grave mistake" to rely on Britain as the main defender.

Schuman, leaving for Washington yesterday to sign the North Atlantic Treaty, described the instrument

Cherry Blossoms Reach Their Peak

Washington, March 31 (AP)—The capital's famed cherry blossoms, supercharged with hormones for the first time, hit their peak today.

The hormone treatment, in the form of an inexpensive spray, is designed to keep the blossoms at their shiny best through next week-end's cherry blossom festival.

Irving C. Root, parks superintendent, said the blossoms started opening by the thousands last Sunday and normally would fall off within five days.

as "a guarantee of peace and security which we have sought in vain since the end of the first world war."

The cabinet spokesman said Schuman will remain in the United States until Easter, talking in that vein for agreements giving the treaty plenty of teeth to make it truly effective.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 31 (AP)—Baseball has corrected a mistake it made in writing its "bonus" rule but it won't allow the clubs to correct the mistakes they made under that rule.

That seems to be the situation resulting from the commissioner's interpretation of the recent change in the bonus rule. The change will apply only to players signed after today and thus kids like Johnny Antonelli and Chuck Stobbs, who are bench riders because they can't get needed Minor league seasoning, will have to continue in that status.

Claude Harmon, the Defending Masters golf champ, plans a full week of practice at Augusta before the tournament starts next week.

Jack Dempsey, who takes a dim view of Joe Louis' drawing power as a promoter because he tried the stunt himself, comments: "I wish I could take some of these contenders back to my day to fight them. At that time you could keep some of the money you made fighting."

COINCIDENCE CORNER

When the University of Maryland mile relay team set a new record of 3:22.3 at the Florida relays last Saturday, it clipped two seconds off the mark set by another Maryland team in 1940.

Last week's race was the first time Maryland had appeared in the Florida meet since that other record-breaking effort. And one member of the 1940 team was Jim Kehoe, present Maryland track coach.

SPRING CLEANUP

Charley Miller, the old Maine guide from the sidewalks of Bangor, claims he made a special trip to New York to dig some fish-worms in Central Park so he'd be ready to start the fishing season when the ice goes out.

At least that's a fishing yarn with a new twist to it.

DOG WISDOM

I saw him pass the women by,
And never stop to wag his tail.
Or for a romp with them to try,
As if he knew such tricks would fail.

A little dog, who sought a friend
On whom for love he could depend.
He must have heard some woman say:
"I want no dog about the place!"

Or have been sternly sent away
By someone with a frowning face.
Indifferently he passed me by,
Seeking a younger friend than I.

And then he saw a boy draw near—
A sturdy lad of nine or ten.
His every action made it clear
He'd found what he was seeking then.

No longer friendless need he roam.
Together, boy and dog went home.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE JOY BEHIND IT ALL

A new era of life opened up after that day in a little Michigan town when we stood out on Main Street and watched the first "horseless carriage" pass by. It was apparently looked upon only speculatively. Yet it was the harbinger of the machine age—of all manner of gadgets and creations in mass production.

The wagon maker no longer put love into his wheels, for there were no more wheels needed. Except those made by machinery. And no more scented harness shops, for the automobile was soon to chase old Dobbin off his beat. And now the ice man is only an occasional visitor. But we still search for those products of the hand and heart that makers put themselves into. Antiques were never so expensive!

It was the joy behind all sorts of work that made our fathers so happy. Drudgery has been robbed—but something of the joy of work has atrophied. The Oriental hand-loom, so beautiful and so precious, now are being replaced by machinery—with-out love. Only the museums are being enriched!

The most precious books in my library are those that have been set by hand, bound by hand, and scented with the love and devotion of lovers of beauty. Just to handle one of these is to feel warmth in one's heart. You cannot make human happiness with a machine! The tiller of the soil, it seems to me, comes nearest to gaining this, though he is being cheated out of much of it by the turn of wheels.

Even the writer has his left eye (and often both of them) on a moving picture contract before he has even written his first line. What are the names of writers—if any—slated for immortality? My book shelves harbor many a volume whose author died neglected and unsung. But not without first planting the struggle and love of his soul into each page. That was his solitary joy.

Go into a great gallery of art and look upon the masterpieces of the Old World. What color, what magic you will see. There wasn't a single stroke of the brush or mixture of paint that did not come from the joy-heart of the one who wrought. That is the secret of immortality.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Scents."

"Money Panic" Danger Passes: New York, March 28 (AP)—The danger of a "money panic" having passed, Wall Street today resumed the task of rebuilding the shattered stock market structure. Large buying orders again made their appearance at the opening of today's market and prices of issues were quickly bid up 1 to 16 points a share.

A brisk demand developed for the oil shares on announcement that oil executives had reached an agreement for curtailment of crude oil production.

CHURCHILL TO REVEAL VIEWS ON BROADCAST

By CY DOUGLASS

Boston, March 31 (AP)—Winston Churchill tells the world tonight what he sees for man in this war-marred century.

The 74-year-old statesman, who spurred battling Britain with his call to "blood, sweat, and tears," will speak on the "20th Century, Its Promise and Its Realization."

His views are awaited with the urgency that surrounded his "Iron Curtain" speech at Fulton, Mo., March 5, 1946.

Then he lamented the lowering of an "iron curtain" across Europe, assailed Soviet Russian expansion, and called for the fraternal association of the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United States.

Speaks At 9 P. M.

Tonight in his immediate audience of 13,900 at Boston Garden will be some of the ablest thinkers of the western world; statesmen, educators, scientists and philosophers.

They are gathered for a three-day mid-century survey, initiated by Massachusetts Institute of Technology on the "social implications of scientific progress." The occasion is the inauguration Saturday of Tech's tenth president, Dr. James Rhyne Killian, Jr.

Over the country and much of the world, the words of Churchill will be carried by radio (NBC, ABC, Mutual in U.S.) and television to one of the largest audiences ever to hear a speaker. He is scheduled to speak at 9 a. m. (EST).

Going Home Saturday

Churchill has agreed that his address will be "of some importance." He has said little more about it.

The former prime minister will be in Boston until Friday at midnight. Then he, his wife and their daughter and son-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Christopher Soames leave for New York. They take the Queen Elizabeth home on Saturday. All during his stay he will be guarded by representatives of Scotland Yard, the U.S. Secret service and Boston police.

The convocation will bring him again to Boston Garden tomorrow night. Departing slightly from its custom of never conferring honorary degrees Tech will make Churchill "an honorary lecturer," the first this noted scientific school has ever had.

ANOTHER RED OFFICIAL IS "REPLACED"

Moscow, March 31 (AP)—Mikhail A. Suslov has been replaced as chief of the propaganda and agitation section of the Communist party Central committee. In another of the series of high level shifts of authority, the post was given to D. T. Shepilov of the staff of Pravda, the Communist party newspaper.

The reference to Shepilov as chief of the propaganda section appeared in a Pravda account of the opening of the Communist Youth Congress here. Both Suslov and Shepilov were present at the congress meeting and both were elected to the active presidium of the congress.

Held Other Jobs

Suslov came up through the Communist party ranks and has held some important Soviet jobs. He was one of three Soviet delegates to the Cominform session last June which blasted Yugoslav Premier-Marshall Tito as a strayer from Leninism. The other two were Andrei A. Zhdanov, who died recently, and G. M. Malenkov, both high in the Soviet hierarchy.

Suslov just a year ago severely criticized the Soviet press. He had directed his fire at the government newspaper, Izvestia; the army newspaper, Red Star, and Tass, the Soviet news agency, chiding them for inadequate treatment of Soviet subjects and various "errors."

Suslov was named to the propaganda post November 25, 1947, succeeding Georgi F. Alexandrov. The appointment came after Alexandrov's textbook, "A History of Western European Philosophy," was criticized by Zhdanov as containing "serious faults." Previously Suslov had been chairman of the Central committee in Lithuania. Pravda had praised his work there.

Nanking, March 31 (AP)—The government promised today to reunite all China at the Peiping peace talks. Premier Ho Ying-Chin made the promise in a report to the legislative Yuan. He added the government would seek to prevent China's internal affairs from disturbing world peace. He pledged full support to the United Nations.

Way West. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Forney and her sons, Mrs. L. J. Hoppe, of Collingswood, N. J., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Francis Smith, South Washington street.

Mrs. Samuel G. Spangler, York street, has returned from a week's visit in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Dickson, Springs avenue, have returned from Pittsburgh, where they spent several days.

NOTES ON GROWING LIMA BEANS

The seeds of Lima beans are so sensitive to cold, wet soils that planting cannot be safely done in this latitude until well up in May. However, gardeners with ample cold-frame space or even with a sunny window or two may start some extra early Limas two to four weeks before normal planting time in May and thereby gain considerable time in early maturity. Of course, this idea is practicable only in the home garden where a few extra early green Limas are worth the trouble.

Failure with Lima beans is often traced to planting them in heavy types of soil and neglecting to add sand to the covering soil to permit the fragile plants to emerge. Few other food crops are so delicate when the seedling comes through the ground as a Lima bean plant. On this point two practices are stressed—(1) Always plant Lima beans on their edge, with the eye down; (2) Mix sand, peat or leafmold with the covering soil so no hard crust will form above the seedling. With these precautions, seed should be covered almost 2 inches deep.

It is seldom advisable to use fresh stable manure or commercial fertilizers high in nitrogen content for Limas, else vine growth will be excessive. Well rotted manure is suitable to increase the soil's organic matter content and a fertilizer with a high phosphoric acid content is recommended, something near a 4-12-4 strength. Of course, the soil should be deeply mellow, although this crop thrives in any good loam, from a sandy to a fairly heavy clay texture, providing there is plenty of organic matter present to prevent compactness and to conserve moisture. Of course, good drainage is essential.

Bush varieties of Lima beans come into bearing from one to four weeks earlier than pole varieties. But the latter produce heavier and later crops, especially desirable for winter storing. A wise plan is to plant a few rows of bush varieties as early as possible or even start them, as already suggested, in berry baskets under glass and then later transfer them to their growing site after the soil is warm in May. Then make two or three additional plantings of bush sorts and at last one of pole varieties.

Gardeners are often unable to obtain suitable poles for Lima and other vining beans. This problem can be solved by utilizing fence rows for pole beans, especially where woven wire fences are available on which to train the vines. Too, fence row soils are usually ideal for pole beans—fertile, mellow and well drained. Farmers may find pole Limas a profitable crop to grow along idle fence rows.

Although most persons refer to all Lima beans as "butter" bean, this common name is truly applicable to but one variety, the pole Sieva or Carolina Lima. This is one of the earliest maturing of pole varieties, reaching edible size in about 80 days after planting.

Small-seeded bush Limas should be thinned to stand 8 to 10 inches apart in the row, large-seeded bush sorts about 12 inches.

It is not advisable to cultivate, walk through or otherwise move about among Lima bean plants when the foliage is wet with dew or rain.

Beans of the late crop may be al-

Veterans Foreign Wars Home association, Chas. Nitterhouse Post, allowed to ripen in the pod and then shelled and stored for use as dry Limas over winter. The green shelled Lima is excellent when stored as frozen beans.

Chambersburg, 15 days; maintained gambling devices. (Retail dispenser's license.)

E. Stashinski, Mount Carmel, 10 days; licensee engaged in other business without approval of board; licensee engaged in selling equipment and supplies to retail licensees; stored malt or brewed beverages on premises not covered by license. (Importing distributor's license.)

Charlotte M. Weller, The Martynique, Montgomery (Lycoming) 15 days; maintained gambling devices and permitted gambling.

Moscow, March 31 (AP)—Army Gen. Vassily I. Chuikov, war-time hero of Stalingrad and Lublin, became military governor of the Soviet zone of Germany today, succeeding Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky.

Sokolovsky was promoted to principal assistant to the new minister of Soviet armed forces, Marshal Alexander M. Vasilievsky. Chuikov's appointment also was a promotion.

Forty per cent of the industrial life insurance purchased in 1947 was on the lives of women.

REDS STARTED BITTER STRIKE IN MILWAUKEE

New York, March 31 (AP)—Communist chiefs, seeking to halt war aid to Britain, flashed the word that heralded the long 1941 strike at the Milwaukee Allis-Chalmers plant, a government witness said.

Louis F. Budenz, on the stand in the Communist conspiracy trial, testified yesterday the strike began at a secret party meeting at Milwaukee in 1940 in the days of the Hitler-Stalin pact.

He said Eugene Dennis, party general secretary and a defendant, told the meeting that the party's U. S. politburo had recommended the strike to block "the flow of war materials."

CIO Head Present

Among those present at the meeting, Budenz said, was Harold Christoffel, then president of the Allis-Chalmers local of the CIO United Automobile Workers.

"Christoffel said an occasion for such a stoppage could be found," the witness testified, "and Dennis said it should be done as soon as possible."

The strike came off early in 1941, but was ended before Germany invaded Russia in June, the witness said.

Budenz, former Communist official, broke with the party in 1945, and rejoined the Roman Catholic church. He is the first government witness called in the trial of 11 Communist leaders.

Rebukes Defendants

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina rebuked the defendants for "smiling, sneering and snickering" during Budenz's testimony.

Defense lawyers jumped up to protest, as did Dennis, who is defending himself.

"We do not take these proceedings lightly," said Dennis.

"I saw you," the judge retorted. "You were one of the chief offenders."

The exchange came in a courtroom flurry touched off when Medina accidentally misstated the charge against the defendants.

He said they were accused of "conspiring to overthrow the government" instead of "conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow" of the government.

WOULD RETURN RELIEF CONTROL TO COUNTY UNIT

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—Legislation to return complete control and part of the cost of public relief to counties reached a Senate committee today.

At the same time, Sens. Fred P.

an operetta entitled "The Mocking Bird," given Saturday evening.

The Women's Guild of St. Paul's Reformed church have prepared a number of layettes to be sent to war victims overseas. The layettes were made up of the donations of various Guild members and their friends. Mrs. Frank Higinbotham had charge of the collection.

Lutheran World Action Sunday was marked on March 27 at the First Lutheran church in charge of Pastor George E. Sheffer.

Among business conducted at a recent meeting of the local camp, Sons of Union Veterans, was the initial preparation of their annual Memorial Day parade. The men also decided to conduct their annual picnic on Friday and Saturday, June 24 and 25, at their armory grounds.

The local Lions club met Wednesday evening at the Cross Keys diner east of town.

Shirley Louise Smith, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith, has recovered from her recent appendectomy which was performed at the Hanover hospital.

The Men's Brotherhood of St. Paul's Reformed church met Tuesday evening at the Sunday school rooms of the church. The topic of the meeting was "Ways and Means of Living My Religion."

To present the subject, these members gave three-minute talks: Charles Alwine on "In the Position of Employer or Executive"; Richard Higinbotham on "As A Fellow Workman"; Preston B. Dallmeyer on "In My Conversation"; James Stock on "In My Thought Life"; and Charles Slaybaugh on "In My Church Life."

Hare, Jr. (R-Somerset) and T. Newell Wood (R-Luzerne) the sponsors of the county plan, called for a sweeping investigation of the Department of Public Assistance in Pennsylvania.

Under the Hare-Wood bill county board of assistance would take over the distribution of relief, establish rules and regulations on eligibility and only make reports on financial needs to the state Department of Public Assistance.

20 Pct. Local Funds

In addition, the state would be required to pay only 80 per cent of the cost of assistance with the remaining 20 per cent being raised locally.

In calling for the investigation into relief, Hare and Wood noted that the state is now spending $151,000,000 every two years in state funds and $75,000,000 in federal grants for assistance.

"If the inquiry is authorized we would make a study from top to bottom of the whole setup," Hare explained to newsmen.

It would be made by a 15-member special commission composed of five appointees of the governor, five senators and five representatives. They would not only study the administration of public assistance at the state and county level but would inquire into the cooperation between the state and public and private charities. A $100,000 allocation would be made for the inquiry.

Legislators Would Get Commission Posts

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—House-passed legislation designed to give lawmakers an inside view of operations on four more state agencies reached the Senate today.

It would permit the appointment of two senators and two representatives to the state Game commission, state Fish commission, Pennsylvania Historical and Museum commission and the state Council of Education. They would have no voting privileges.

Such membership was first granted to legislators four years ago on the Pennsylvania Aeronautics commission.

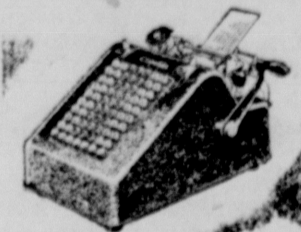

equally in the estate.

In the will filed yesterday in probate court Mrs. Julian said the absence of bequests to others "is not by inadvertent omission but rather by design and intent for reasons deemed by me to be adequate and proper."

Mrs. Julian died last week.

TRUMAN FORCES TO 'BREAK BACK' OF GOP EFFORT

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, March 31 (AP)—Administration forces today claimed enough votes to "break the back" of a Republican-led drive to slash the $5,580,000,000 European recovery program.
The first real test was due to come—perhaps today—on an amendment by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Senator Russell (D-Ga.) to cut the 15-month aid program to $5,037,000,000.
"We'll beat it," Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) told reporters. "And when we beat the Taft amendment, then they know the jig is up. That will break the back of the move to cut the total."
Lucas' confidence was echoed by Senator Connally (D-Texas), chairman of the Foreign Relations committee.
Connally conceded that the vote "will be close." But he said an informal poll indicates the Senate will approve the full total by a safe margin.
But both Taft and Russell insisted their amendment had "a good chance."
The economic cooperation administration is seeking $1,150,000,000 for the next three months; $4,280,000,000 for the 12 months following; and $150,000,000 in long-range contract authority.
The pending Senate bill would authorize this aid plan but would not provide the actual cash. This must be done by appropriation. All the signs were that the Taft-Russell

Littlestown

Littlestown — The Confirmation class of Redeemer's Reformed church attended the concert by Hans Jose, Holland violinist, in Trinity Reformed church, Hanover, Tuesday evening. Mr. Jose, a prisoner in a concentration camp during the war, is touring this country in the interests of World Service. Redeemer's Sunday school purchased recordings of two of the selections he played in the concert, one of which was his own composition, "The Canary." These recordings will be played next Sunday at the opening assembly of the Sunday school. The class was taken to Hanover by Miss Mary Jane Staley, Miss Helen Wisotzkey and the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds. Members of the class who attended the concert were Shirley Stoner, Joan Sheely, Nancy Crabb, Diane Stambaugh, Dean Bankert, Robert Koonitz, Bernard Crouse, Shirley Crouse, Nancy Wenschhof, Dixie Nester, Patricia Spangler, Robert Jacoby, Howard Dodder and Edward Martin.

The basketball team of the Young Men's class of Redeemer's Reformed church were defeated in basketball by the team of the Fairfield Reformed church at Fairfield on Monday evening by a score of 28 to 26. The Littlestown players were Clayton L. Evans, Clyde Crouse, Marvin Breighner, William Ebaugh, Donald Arbogast and the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds.

Mrs. Verdie Strain, president, conducted the opening devotions and presided over the regular meeting of the Women's Society of Christian service, Tuesday evening in the parsonage of the Centenary Methodist church, East King street. Secretary's report was given by Mrs. Mary Dillman. There were 11 members in attendance. Mrs. C. C. Rebert, Hanover, was a guest at the meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Grantas E. Hooper. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, April 19, with the place to be announced later.

Rehearsals have been underway for sometime for "Crocodile Island" which is the annual operetta to be presented by the students of the senior high school in the Littlestown high school auditorium Friday evening, April 22, at 8 o'clock. It is being directed by Miss Joan Coble, music supervisor, and Miss Shirley Hawk, a member of the senior class, will be the accompanist. The entire story in this production takes place in the garden of King Bongazoola on Crocodile Island, where the king and his two daughters, Pearl and Petal, are discussing the situation when Mammy Lu, the royal nurse, informs them an American ship which was bringing a party of American tourists had arrived. Among the visitors are Dr. Amos McShoozer, an elderly gem collector; Miss Abigail Brewster and her nephews, Thomas Brooks and Jefferson Penfield, and a colored porter, Hopalong Simpson. Tom and Jeff soon become acquainted with Pearl and Petal who tell them of the predicament so they decide to have Hopalong change places with the king knowing he will be able to save himself from the crocodiles by his shrewd use of the razor. Hopalong, overhearing this, plans to hide and does so in the shrine of the dreaded oracle and thus by delivering some emphatic admonitions to Coco, when he calls on the idol for one final pronouncement, completely changes the course of events. Coco is demanded for sacrifice instead of the king and chamberlain. Coco confesses and the king rewards Tom and Jeff by giving them the hands of his daughters while Mammy Lu and Hopalong get along quite well together. The cast of characters, not quite complete, will be announced at an early date.

9-Year Old Boy Is Found Strangled

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—Nine-year-old Stephen Drewes liked to play cops and robbers. He often acted out little dramas.
Yesterday was the kind of a day for playing games and pretending.
Stephen, a fourth grader, hurried home from school to report proudly that he had been selected to pitch on the sixth grade baseball team.
After dinner Stephen went up—amendment would get the strongest support of any of the 27 amendments offered to the ECA bill.

FEAR VIOLENCE AS DEADLINE ON STRIKE NEARS

New York, March 31 (AP)—Importation of union strong-arm men was charged today as owners of the city's biggest taxicab fleets declared they will run as many cabs as possible despite an impending strike.
A union linked to John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers repeated its cry that "not a wheel will roll" after 4:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow in the city's $100,000,000 a-year taxi industry.

Union members have been ordered to "wipe all cabs off the street."
Two thousand policemen were held ready to step in if there is violence. Mayor William O'Dwyer says he is determined that there shall be no more of the beatings and overturning of cabs that marked strikes of past years.

Deny Importing "Goons"
Jack J. Jackson, spokesman for a large group of independent owners-drivers, charged the union had brought in men from southern mining towns. Jackson said these men would spearhead union flying squads and that if trouble resulted they would be to blame.

Leon Zwicker, director of the taxi union, denied that the men brought in are "goons"—strong-arm men.
Zwicker said 100 United Mine Workers organizers "from all over" are in the city helping the taxi union. "If there are any goons," he said, "they will be the operators' goons."

Principal issue in the strike—voted Tuesday by more than 5,000 union drivers and taxi garage workers—is a demand for immediate union recognition without going through a representation election under state labor laws.

Receive Bid For A Desilting Dam

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—The Department of Forests and Waters yesterday received a bid of $1,481,000 from Arthur A. Johnson Corp., of Sunbury, for construction of a desilting dam at Auburn as part of the Schuylkill river cleanup.
The department also was given a bid of $212,478 by Hello L. Teer, Durham, N. C., for construction of an impounding basin at Senatoga on the Schuylkill and a bid of $170,170 from S. J. Groves and Sons, Royersford, for a similar project at Lower Vincent.

stairs to play his game of pretending.

A little later his mother, Mrs. Marjorie Drewes, went upstairs. She found Stephen lying behind a door leading to the third floor, a twisted clothesline around his neck. The other end was tied to the handle of a trunk on the third floor.

Mrs. Drewes said that apparently he was killed when he stumbled and fell down the stairs with the rope tied around his neck.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Volland, Hammond, Ind., formerly of here, with their young daughter, Cathy Ann, have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Carroll Volland.

A party of relatives and friends were entertained recently at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Monroe Danner in observance of the birthdays of the Rev. Mr. Danner, his daughter, Miss Ruth N. Danner, and her brother, Donald E. Danner, all occurring in March. Others in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Titus Sipe and son, Owen, Dover, R. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fitz and Lois Fitz, York, R. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Crowl and children, near Gettysburg; Mr. and Mrs. Allen H. Herr, Hanover; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sellers and daughter, Marie Elizabeth, Fred Brandt, and the Misses Dorothy and Mary-Susan Danner.

Paul Price, who was taken seriously ill in October and hospitalized for most of the time, returned home last week in a very much improved condition.

Mrs. G. J. Otto and daughters, Jean and Cathy, made a trip to York on Friday. Jean has now returned to her classes at the Paradise parochial school after an illness that confined her to bed. Cathy, who is of pre-school age, has also recovered from an illness.

The Charles W. Burgard family, York, formerly of here, recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Burgard.

A full house attended the Saturday night performance at the high school auditorium of the operetta of Old Louisiana, "The Mocking Bird," presented by students, of the music department of the school, directed by Mrs. Dorothy Miller Elgin. Fifty-eight students, wearing authentic costumes of the late eighteenth century which was depicted in the performance, participated. Principal roles were played by George Rabenstein, Gerald Slothour, Paul Rentzel, Jeanne Hoffman, Joanne Biesecker, Gene Hoopes, Donald Markey, Harry Moul, Charles Sanders, Joanne Anderson, Betty Gruver, Marian Fissel, Frances Lee Elgin, Patsy Lillieh, and Earl Orner. Phyllis Hoffheins was accompanist.

Justin S. Resser, a veteran of World War I, who has been under treatment for a heart ailment at the Lebanon Veterans' hospital, is sufficiently improved to be about.

Wilbert Sowers, who underwent a major operation during the past week, remains in a serious condition at the Hanover hospital.

Elmer "Ben" Nickey is able to be about after suffering a severe attack of neuritis.

Clayton A. Jacobs, Elizabethtown, formerly of here, has been in poor health for some time and is not much improved, according to recent word to local relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, north of here, will be hosts to the April meeting of the North White club of Mulberry in the near future. The club has a number of local members.

$150,000 fire destroyed the Krasik Furniture company in downtown Monessen last night. Damage was estimated by Municipal Fire Chief W. R. McShaffery. No one was hurt, but firemen were endangered as the second and third floors and roof successively collapsed.

OLEO-BUTTER FIGHT FLARES

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Two familiar gladiators—butter and oleo—took the House floor today for a showdown fight.

The question is: Will Congress free oleomargarine of all federal taxes and prevent any new restrictions on its sale?

Confident oleo forces claimed they had the votes to splutter the butter bloc. But dairy state members, while conceding the House will vote to repeal the special oleo taxes, said they expect to win their fight to outlaw sale of yellow oleo in interstate commerce.

Taxes that would be repealed, if the measure becomes law, are:

On colored oleo at retail 10 cents a pound; on the uncolored product at retail 14-cent a pound, $600 a year on oleo manufacturers; $480 a year on wholesalers of colored oleo; $200 a year on wholesalers of the uncolored product; $48 a year on each retailer of the colored oleo, and $6 a year on retailers of the uncolored product.

Natives of Bikini, who moved to permit the bomb test, have finally found a permanent home on the island of Kili, 503 miles southwest of Bikini.

Doug Fairbanks, Jr., Going To Be Knighted

Hollywood, March 31 (AP)—Old Doug Fairbanks' boy is going to be knighted by the King of England.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., was notified Tuesday that he had been made an honorary Knight Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire for his work in Anglo-American relations and for his chairmanship of CARE.

"I'm just about speechless," said the 39-year-old actor shortly after he was notified of the award, probably unprecedented to any American in the acting profession. He said he was "taken completely by surprise" by the joint notification from the British consulate here and in Washington.

The average length of life in the United States jumped from 49.24 years at the beginning of the century to 66.69 years in 1946, an increase of about 17½ years.

United States families averaged $4,600 of life insurance protection the 39-year-old actor shortly after at mid-year 1947.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

In Memoriam 3

BARBEHENN—In memory of Aunt "Auntie" Barbehenn who passed away March 31, 1947. She is gone but not forgotten. And I sit and think alone Of the joy we shared together Of the sorrows bravely born. Every day I try to do Something that would make her glad. Much I miss her loving smile But only for a little while. She is waiting there for me And how happy we will be. Gone but never to be forgotten. Sister Mary Barbehenn Sister Annie Barbehenn Brother Nathaniel Barbehenn Brother Edward Barbehenn.

WEST NATIONS ARE LINING UP SOLID FRONT

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, March 31 (AP)—The Western nations began lining up their solid front today as British Foreign Minister Bevin and Secretary of State Acheson scheduled the first of a series of major conferences.

While the main reason for Bevin's visit to this country is the signing of the North Atlantic Security Treaty Monday, the meetings were expected to cover the whole problem of reinforcing the unity of the West against Russia.

Bevin was due at the State Department at 2:30 p. m. (EST). Diplomatic authorities agreed that by far the most important matters facing Bevin and Acheson—as well as French Foreign Minister Schuman—concern Western Germany.

To See Acheson

Schuman probably will see Acheson tomorrow and the three foreign ministers will make a determined effort to end policy differences preventing creation of a single German government over the American, British and French occupation zones.

Bevin takes the stand there will be no trouble settling this issue.

Other questions which may come up in the discussions, particularly between Bevin and Acheson, include: (1) The security of the Middle Eastern countries such as Turkey, Greece and Iran; (2) The possibility of forming a Mediterranean defense treaty; and (3) How to block the spread of Communism in south-east Asia.

Means "Long Peace"

On his arrival yesterday from New York, Bevin said the Atlantic Pact, which he and 11 other foreign ministers are to sign, will mean

File Unemployment Compensation Appeal

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—The Phoenix Iron company, of Phoenixville, has filed an unemployment compensation appeal in the commonwealth court of Dauphin county courthouse.

In argument yesterday, the company claimed unemployment compensation should not have been paid some 700 of its workers who went on strike in 1946.

The company charged that the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation had failed to register the strikers for work and that no attempt had been made to place the strikers in jobs.

"peace for a long time."

In a radio talk last night, Chairman Taft (R.-Ohio) of the Senate Republican policy committee suggested that such a pact, together with the proposed rearmament of Europe, might lead Russia to attack "before these armaments are built up."

Others scheduled to arrive during the next two days include Foreign Ministers Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium, Joseph Bech of Luxembourg, D. U. Stikker of The Netherlands, and Count Carlo Sforza of Italy—who already has had one brief meeting with Acheson. The foreign ministers of Iceland, Denmark, Norway and Portugal likewise are expected here in time for the first formal meeting of the pact countries Saturday morning.

CHAMBER WANTS

Pire company No. 1 will be held in the fire hall on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock instead of 7:30 p. m., which had been the hour of meeting during the winter months. Henry E. Waltman and Harry W. Badders, who comprise the entertainment committee for the Tuesday evening meeting announced that they have secured a technician sound picture from the Walter Kiddie company entitled, "Fire and How to Fight It" to be shown at this meeting.

All those interested in the reorganization of the uniform rank are asked to be present on Tuesday evening. Secretary Harry W. Badders has announced that his books will close April 1. Delinquents are asked to contact him at once.

Edward Leister's team of the Littlestown Fish and Game association will conduct an eating stand at the sale on Walter P. Crouse's farm, five miles out of Littlestown on the Littlestown-Taneytown highway on Friday. The stand will open at 11 a. m. Those on the committee in addition to the chairman are Edward M. Plunkert, Curvin Mummert, Warren Wisotzkey, Monroe Clapsaddle, Charles Morehead, W. H. Dorn, James Duttera, Emory Rickard and Raymond Riffe. Proceeds from this eating stand are for the benefit of the Fish and Game association.

EXPANSION OF U.S. BROADCASTS IS RECOMMENDED

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Congress got the argument today that while the "Voice of America" is being heard behind Russia's Iron Curtain, it ought to reach millions more there and in other parts of the world.

A five-member advisory commission on information recommended a prompt expansion of the State Department's official radio facilities.

It said Congress should vote much larger funds also to circulate American films and publications to spread facts about the United States and offset Communist propaganda.

Need More Money

The commission said the $36,000,000 approved by the budget bureau for the official radio and allied operations next year was a "bare minimum" and out of line with the billions proposed for the military and foreign economic aid. Russia, it advised, is spending "enormous sums" for propaganda.

President named the commission to keep tab on the expanded American information program which Congress authorized last year. Mark Ethridge, Louisville publisher, is chairman. Members include Erwin D. Canham, Christian Science Monitor editor, Philip D. Reed, General Electric company, Mark A. May, director of the Yale university Institute of Human Relations, and Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Asking Drake Well Anniversary Stamp

Washington, March 31 (AP)—To impress America with the importance of maintaining its oil supremacy, Senator Martin (R.-Pa.) urges a postage stamp marking the 90th anniversary of the Drake well in Pennsylvania.

Martin spoke yesterday in support of a bill he has introduced to commemorate the bringing in the Edwin L. Drake well in northwestern Pennsylvania on August 27, 1859—the first in the world.

Rep. Gavin (R.-Pa.) has introduced a similar measure in the House. Neither bill has reached the Senate or House.

"I hope this Congress will approve the measure," Martin told the Senate. "We need to maintain our leadership in this product not only for our peacetime economy but also for national defense."

Because oil produced cheaper in foreign countries is being imported many small, stripper wells here may be closed permanently, Martin said.

SAYS EDUCATION IGNORES RADIO

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—Educators of the country have ignored the advantages of radio and television, says the chairman of the New York University Department of Communications.

The NYU educator, Charles A. Siepmann, said yesterday "educational institutions have not taken over the places allocated to them on the FM band or frequencies."

Siepmann, addressing the opening of the 38th annual Schoolmen's

Week at the University of Pennsylvania, said that 95 per cent of the people of the country spend an average of three and a half hours a day listening to the radio—"more time than they spend on anything except working or sleeping."

He called the present "The Golden Age of Communication" with about 3,000 radio and television stations in operation in this country.

The four-day conference has scheduled 132 separate sessions for the 10,000 educators registered.

The keeping quality of Long Island cauliflower was improved by spraying the crop with hormones, or growth-regulating substances, two weeks before harvest.

Dr. Charles H. Huber Writes Interesting Account Of Famous Visitors Here

Heard Many Distinguished Men Speak In Gettysburg — Comte de Paris And Others

BY DR. CHARLES H. HUBER

Director of Women's Div., Emeritus

In the past decade certain aspects of small college administration have changed decidedly. Then, a considerable portion of the time and energy of the president, assisted usually by one or two others, was given over to student enrollment. It was necessary then to go out into the highways and byways and literally compel the students to come in. When, in the last week a summer vacation, a fair sized freshman class was assured, the hard-working, quick stepping president breathed a sigh of genuine relief and felt that things would go on for at least another year.

The prospective student, sensing his advantage, would let it be known that he was planning to enter a college, would confidently await the "representatives" who speedily appeared. More than once have I interviewed some green blade; told him in fine fervor of the advantages of our college, its capable faculty, beautiful buildings, distinguished alumni and glorious history only to have him wave all this aside and inquire: "Now just what inducements do you offer?" By that he meant in fine "Can you give me a larger free scholarship than Bucknell, Dickson, Washington and Lee, Roanoke or a half a dozen others are offering me?"

Enjoyed One Advantage

Naturally in a competition so keen all available arguments and even the financial inducements were pretty much the same. But there was one respect in which our own college was unique. We had a steady succession, almost a procession of distinguished visitors—men of national and even international importance who came within our gates and whose presence and address must prove stimulating and even thrilling in days when thrills were not so numerous or so thrilling as they are now in college life. This string we played to the limit and doubtless it had its effect in bringing some boys and some parents to a favorable decision.

There is no unit by which we can measure the divine effluvia that emanates from great magnetic, compelling personalities, but I can count it a rare privilege and almost liberal education to have seen and heard the many outstanding men who have visited our town and college.

First among these recollections I must recall the meeting in Brua Chapel in the early nineties. The Comte de Paris had been attached to the staff of the Union army as an observer for the French government. He had observed the conflict closely, critically during those three dreadful days and his history of the battle was known and widely read. And so when it was announced that the Count of Paris and the Duke of Orleans, pretender to the throne of France, and other distinguished visitors were on their way hither, a half holiday was proclaimed while students and town people hovered about the station and streets all agog with a great curiosity to see a live French count and one who knew more about the battle than we did.

Our good friend Judge Swope told us just recently that he walked down to the Western Maryland station where the private car was placed to catch a glimpse, if possible, of the distinguished officer. To his great delight he beheld the great Frenchman along with the Duke of Orleans in the act of dining. Just then he, the Count, drew forth a long keen bladed pocket knife. What did this mean? Was the scion of an ancient noble house planning some deadly thrust at the heart of his King? Would he raise his hand against the Lord's anointed? Evidently not, for the King showed not the slightest alarm as the Count raised the shining blade and proceeded to pick his teeth! So much for the ways of Royalty!

In the evening a public meeting and reception for the distinguished guests was held in Brua Chapel. The students came early and got the best seats, naturally. This meeting was presided over by Judge Wills. Anyone not acquainted with the situation would have picked him out as the distinguished guest. He was a tall, broad shouldered man with snow white hair and beard and with a most impressive way of speaking. He looked "every inch a king" while the King of France, for such he would have been had France not tired of kings, was anything but impressive. The audience clamored for a speech from this man who had written up our battle so wonderfully.

The count finally arose and read as Lincoln before him had read from a slip of paper. But alas, his words were not marked for immortality as no one could understand his halting, broken English and thereupon we all concluded that a battlefield guide must have helped him write his account of the three-day conflict!

Queen Visits Gettysburg

Not long after this, another royal personage landed in our midst. She was every inch a queen and she had plenty of inches, as she weighed no less than 300. She came from the land or rather the water Robert Louis Stevenson had made famous. She had been Queen of Hawaii but about a year before, unimpaired of the teaching of history, she had attempted to set aside the constitution of her native land. The ancient trick failed to work and that gave her time and opportunity for travel. Poor old-troubled Queen Liliuokalani!

One fine day—and this meant another half holiday—word went forth that Tammany Hall of New York was coming. Their plan for the monument—the Indian standing before his teepee—on Hancock avenue, had been submitted to the Memorial Commission and some objection had been raised on the ground that coming generations might think that real Indians had participated in the battle. But the Tammany Hall leaders were insistent. The monument was duly erected and the great political organization was on its way.

Liquid Refreshment

First arrived a carload of beer and other potables. The car was open and ready when the main body landed and the organization proceeded to become "enraptured" for the patriotic occasion. We all marched out to the monument where the higher-ups mounted a platform and the dedication was on. The presiding officer was a big, raw-boned Irishman who had every mark of a capable ward politician from a precinct that needed a strong hand. He ordered silence and the hic-cups gradually ceased. The first number on the program was "the Invocation" by Mr. McKnight, president of the college. So with all the grace and dignity he could muster he, the presiding officer, announced that Mr. McKnight would now pronounce the Doxology. One of his trusty followers then pulled his coat tails and audibly whispered "Pray." He finally got the matter straight and the program proceeded.

I think the speaker of the day was a Mr. Fellows, a Tammany leader and at that time district attorney of New York. He was a fluent and magnetic speaker in fine contrast with the mob of wild Irishmen that surrounded him.

High Water Mark

About the same time, if I recall rightly, the High Water Mark monument was to be dedicated. This monument is of special interest to the town and college people as it bears the names of the Battlefield Memorial Commission, among them Dr. McKnight, our former president, and the Hon. Samuel McC. Swope, secretary to the commission, and one who had given much time and work in making this the best marked battlefield in the world.

The glee club of college was invited to sing on this occasion and for some unaccountable reason I was a member. Here was glory indeed! The Marine band would play and I was to sing before the President of the United States, for Mr. Harrison was to be there and make the address. That would be something to write to the home folks. But alas, for my hopes of easy fame. President Harrison was detained in Washington as Mr. Wannamaker, then Postmaster General, explained, as he took his place on the program and gave a very good address. The program however was so crowded that the glee club and their patriotic number with an encore, if needed, were entirely omitted and all I got out of that occasion—so big with possibilities—was a free seat on the platform.

WENATCHEE APPLE QUEEN — Portia Joan Thornton (above), 18-year-old high school girl, will rule as queen over the Apple Blossom Festival at Wenatchee, Wash., May 5-7.

Political 'Upstart'

Then a most unique and interesting figure, like young Lochinvar, came out of the west. Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, was to speak from the rostrum on Memorial Day.

Not long before he had infiltrated himself into that august assembly. He had no sooner hung up his hat and found his seat in the U.S. Senate when he jumped up and made a speech. This for a new arrival was unprecedented and intolerable in a body with such dignity and traditions.

The senator from Delaware who had many years of service to his credit arose to abuse the fresh young upstart and when he was finished everyone thought that Ingalls was also finished, but not so. The new member was up again. He told them where he came from. He gloried in the vastness of his Kansas state, the boundless rolling prairies, granaries to feed the Nation and then exclaimed:

"Why should I, the representative of such a princely realm keep quiet before the distinguished senator who comes from a state that has only two counties when the tide is out, and one when the tide is in?" The next morning he awoke to find himself famous.

Many Military Functions

Senator Ingalls had a brow like that of Olympian Jove but by the time his face reached his chin it had almost vanished. As soon as he began to speak however we knew that his singular head contained a vigorous intellect. His address was clear, fluent and his diction magnificent. A great crowd listened with closest attention and gave a sincere applaud the conviction of his judgment in moving out to the Emmitsburg road instead of remaining on Cemetery Ridge as ordered by the commander. General Sickles bore himself well and spoke with much pride. To my youthful mind he, next to the superb Hancock, was the most military looking of all the great officers of the North and South who visited us. His was a stormy, troubled career full of danger, disappointment and perhaps dishonor but "De mortuis nil nunti bonum."

For some unaccountable reason I missed seeing and hearing the Plumed Knight, the Peerless Leader, James G. Blaine. He was an orator of the old impassioned school. His speech at the rostrum was said to be magnificent. It must have been soon after this that the man who defeated him for presidential honors and defeated him moreover by the narrow margin of 2,000 votes in the state of New York, came on for the Memorial Day address.

President Cleveland was a bulky man and after his return from the National cemetery he had climbed to the platform of his private car at the Western Maryland station. Just then someone who came from the tall timber started the cry "We want Cleveland, Come down Cleveland." Mr. Hendrix, the vice president, urged him quietly not to go down. But Mr. Cleveland was the idol of the Democratic party and he must be democratic always, so he laboriously descended and began shaking hands—a bit of drudgery that all American presidents must submit to.

Collision With President

A crowd of college boys was there of course, and they at once made a concerted drive for the president's hand. In their van was a tall, slender youth who never showed any desire to lead a mob or head a riot, but force of circumstances brought him distinction on that great day. Only one man stood between him and the president's hand but when he slipped aside the crowd at his back became suddenly galvanized into action. There was one mighty impulse like the recoil of a big canon and our young friend landed "Ker sock" right on Grover Cleveland's ample girth. There was one explosive sound from the president's lips that sounded like "Woof" and then our student friend called upon the gods to pile Pelin and Ossa upon him to hide his confusion.

The President, however, was a good sport, and when he had taken in a fresh supply of air, laughed heartily. Evidently that contact with a real President had a stimulating effect on the college boy for he is now a well known professor in a theological seminary, is a valued member of our Inter-Faculty club and lived on the west side of Confederate avenue, but I shall proceed no further in the matter of his identity as he doubtless prefers to remain unknown. (The reference is to Dr. Allen.)

Ovation For Teddy

But what shall we say of Theodore Roosevelt? He came to us while his sun was still at its zenith. The town, the county and many excursionists drawn by that irresistible personality, were out to meet and see and hear the immortal Teddy. His progress through the town was a continuous ovation and he seemed to be fairly bubbling over with a good natured interest in everything (Please Turn to Page 2) and everybody. I doubt if Mr. Lincoln himself received a more spontaneous welcome than the admiring crowds gave to his great preacher of political righteousness and apostle of the strenuous life. Mr. Roosevelt was rather a disappointment to me as a public speaker. He had none of the finished art of lesser men who had stood on the same spot on similar occasions; at his speech was plain, straightforward and interesting. Woodrow Wilson's visit to Gettysburg on the 50th anniversary of the battle, was associated with a momentous event. So far as I can read, there is no other instance in all history in which enemies of a great civil conflict met after fifty years and pledged friendship and loyalty there once there had been only loathing and cruel hate. On July 31, 2nd and 3rd, only 13 years ago he came, fifty-five thousand of them from all the States of the Union—clad in the blue and the gray, and all old men. A city of tents and all the homes in Gettysburg were open to receive and shelter them. Here was material abundant for poet, historian or the writer of romance. It was a tremendous occasion and needed only a great voice to give it expression.

Heard Many Distinguished Men Speak In Gettysburg - Comte de Paris And Others

Wilson A Disappointment

But President Wilson, who possessed the power, if any man did, seemed unwilling or unable to grasp the significance of the hour. He seemed at first reluctant to come and there was much uncertainty as to his intentions. A great tent accommodating 10,000 persons was erected somewhere in the angle between the Round Top railroad and the Emmitsburg road about midway between the Confederate and Union Lines. Having been provided with tickets admitting us to the platform and near to the President's chair, we waited. Finally an official car came out on the track. The President descended amid cheers and handclapping and almost immediately ascended the platform in the tent and began his address, reading closely from manuscript.

When it was finished he seemed to be in a great hurry to be off. He lingered only a few minutes and then mounted the car and was quickly gone. Perhaps the occasion was too big for any man to handle, but certainly a feeling of disappointment was evident in that throng. I have never seen a copy of the speech—I don't recall what it was about, but the Nation's first citizen who had all the cultural equipment and a splendid idealism failed to rise to the occasion. That glorious reunion must forever speak for itself as there was no one to voice its emotions and tell all the world the ability of true Americans to forgive and forget. In verification and confirmation of the very brief visit of President Wilson to the celebrated 50th reunion of the North and South veterans I quote from the report of the Pennsylvania Commission in its account of the occasion printed in 1915. Both President Wilson and the Chief Justice of the United States were to be present on the occasion, having accepted the invitation, as it was expected a so-called Peace Jubilee service would be held to dedicate a site for a great Peace Memorial. Congress, however, had decided that no action could be taken on this, prior to the reunion date, so both the President and the Chief Justice declined the invitation to be present.

However, a few days before the great day of July 4th the President advised the commission that he found it would be possible for him to come for a limited time. He arrived at 11 o'clock, was met at the station by Governor Tener and escorted by State Police directly to the great tent, as was his desire. He was immediately presented to the assembled veterans of the Blue and the Gray, delivered his address, then promptly left to enter his car, which had been switched to the tent, he departed for Washington. His arrival, his speech and his departure all took place well within one hour.

the commencement address in Brua Chapel. Mr. Taft is not the type of man to lead an army against a wall-city. That is where he failed as Chief Executive. As someone described him during his Presidency, "President Taft is an amiable gentleman surrounded by men who know what they want." But take him away from the hurly burly of politics, give him a robe of ermine instead of a rod of power and he is the equal to any. In his Commencement address he analyzed the absurd position and claim of the German Imperial government that under the stress of necessity she must and would do as she pleased with America or the nations who might get in her way.

This policy led to the sinking of the Laconia, the Lusitania and the loss of many American lives, and finally brought our country into the war. Mr. Taft's logic was calm, clear and inescapable. The speech was given wide circulation in our country and abroad, and was a valuable contribution to the literature of the great war.

Marse Henry Classic

A long list of prominent lecturers and public speakers have trod the bema like Demosthenes of old while the citizens of our little Athens listened and wondered greatly. There was Henry Waterson of Louisville bringing the finest culture and finish that the south could furnish. His lecture on Money and Morals was a genuine classic. Good old Marse Henry! We shall never forget him and I know he must have carried with him always a vivid recollection of Gettysburg, for while he lectured the snow began to fall and all that night a blizzard raged.

The "Colonel" was urged not to leave on the 5:55 train on the Reading next morning but he had another appointment for the next night and so he started. The train managed to get two miles out of town where it remained for two days while Mr. Waterson sat behind the stove in the nearest farm house and tried to find solace in Whittier's "Snow Bound."

Then there was Bryan, always easy to listen to, and Russell Cromwell, a practical idealist with his head in the clouds but his feet on solid ground. There was our own Dr. Stuckenberg, an officer in our Civil War, pastor of the American church in Berlin and a passionate student always. He lectured for a week in Brua Chapel on the trend of philosophical and sociological thought in Germany. Profound and difficult material he was handling—yet the chapel was crowded day after day with students, faculty and townspeople who heard him gladly.

Parade Of Personages

A whole galaxy of stars of the first magnitude have appeared in the horoscope of our little college and town. I might ramble on and on until Jupiter opens again the doors on high Olympus and lets the morning in and the story would not be finished. I can see a goodly company of army officers, governors of states, United States Senators, college presidents and men of letters each bringing to us some contribution from minds highly endowed and lives rich in experience. What a pity their words have been lost or forgotten. Perhaps our Department of History some fine day, having a little time to spare, may decide to search out and bring together the "Sayings of Great Men at Gettysburg." It would make a volume worth while.

I do happen however, to have a little speech delivered by a man for whom I have the greatest admiration. It was delivered for our boys on our campus by Charles Evans Hughes at the time he was governor of New York. An anti-climax for the occasion was nearly furnished by a college educated bulldog.

When the governor's party arrived the students gathered quickly from all directions. George Kessler leaped to the front of the crowd and began swaying wildly from side to side as he led the cheering. The brindled bulldog mistook his strange movements for a challenge and made a mighty leap for his throat. He narrowly missed him too, as he closed his jaws in the shoulder of George's coat where he hung suspended. The owner of the dog seized (Please Turn To Page 3)

by the collar and persuaded by vigorous shouts to let go; he dragged him into the back and "that was that."

The preliminaries being out of the way Mr. Hughes proceeded as follows:

"Boys, I am very glad indeed to have an opportunity to say a few words to you. I have been in school the last few days; I have had a rare opportunity of attending a school of patriotism; I have had a chance to learn something of the title of Gettysburg from the men who played so important a part in this heroic field you have opportunities every day which I have now for the first time in my life. I hope that the close association with me has not dulled your sensibilities, made you unappreciative of the consequences and meaning of the great battle."

Continues Noble Deeds

"I tell you, boys, history is nothing except as those who grow up to be part of the old actors on the stage, have the manly courage and great spirit to continue the work nobly begun by them. We live to reuse the pages of history, there inspiration, but here is hope, and love to talk to a lot of American young men."

"I have learned of the valor of the young men who went out to fight at 17, 18, and 19 years of age, young men who were willing to lie behind breastworks and endure the hardships of camp life as it then existed, that they might have an opportunity to show what they could do, and that they might spend their lives in order that the union might be established. But I believe that every one of you would be willing to do the same thing."

"I believe that patriotism today is just as strong, love of country just as pure, and the willingness to sacrifice just as ready as it was in the '60's. But you have a different job. I would not in any way discourage the rehearsing of past achievements. I would not disparage the valor of the men who went out, and did not know when they could return to their homes. But I also see the courage of a young man who will face a public job with the same heroism, and it is not an easy matter."

Praises Public Service

"I like to see the patriotism of young men who, when they go out to college, will entertain the idea of public service. You know what a splendid thing it is to get the proper point in view. You do not learn very much from college until you get a new perspective, until you learn to appreciate what is worth while. It is worth while to have capacity for endurance. It is worth while, when you get to 45, not to have any notes due. It is worth while to find that, when you come to the time when the burdens of life are right on top of you, you have not allowed that day of thoughtlessness and carelessness to rob you of your vitality and cause you to be unequal to the opportunity which every American young man expects to have."

"It is a splendid thing for a boy to have a good time, to enjoy the pleasures of good fellowship, to know what friendship and comradeship of youth means. It is a splendid thing to have all the fun and frolic of college life, and yet at the same time if a young man, in later life, finds all his strength and energy there, there is something the matter. We have learned that, on this battlefield, in a few moments, the decisive steps were taken. A man cannot in a few moments change the results of a wrong life. No man can expect to go through carelessly, and without any reference to the results of such living, and then in a great emergency expect to play the part he ought to play. What a man does in a critical emergency, when he is put to the severest sort of test, is an almost certain index to his previous life."

Urges Right Stars

"It is a splendid thing to know what is worth while physically and mentally, to get all the capital information one can, so that a fellow has something to work on. It is not a simple thing, this, that a man should start right. It is not simply that a man should furnish himself as well as he can, to become just as keen and just as well equipped as he can, and then to see how many men he can do."

"That sort of thing will make a man popular in some quarters for a short while,—he will come back and tell the boys of the delightful experiences he has had, and all that, but as time goes on the men that have that ideal have to keep to oblivion; they eventually come to naught, whereas the fellow who is willing to keep his manhood right, and has a notion that his object in life is to enrich others and to make the best of himself, with the desire to give all of his best to the service of the community in which he lives—that is the lesson we have to learn from Gettysburg."

"It is not all there. We must not think of it as a closed book. That battle was fought for its own sake. It was fought that we might have a country where every man should have a fair show. And none of the many changes that have taken place could help us realize what it meant for our fathers to go out in order that we might have equal opportunities. That is what it means—that we have the results of their efforts so necessary to our development."

High Ideals Lauded

"These results can scarcely be estimated. At all events we need to forget past differences and past animosities. We can never realize the nation's ideals,—we can never enjoy the fruits of the pure democratic spirit,—unless the individual members of the community count service to state and honorable conduct of greater value than the amassing of riches, or the obtaining of individual distinction; and the man who will cheat the public, or play the hypocrite in legislature or any administrative position, ought to be run out into the public house of punishment. I thank you boys, good luck to every one of you. I wish I could shake hands with all of you."

"I am almost afraid to proceed further with our distinguished visitors, for I recall the experience of a preacher whose theme was the prophets. He spent an hour and a half on the major prophets, then ended 'and now we come to the minor prophets. There is Amos, where shall we place Amos?' Then a man in the rear of the church reached for his hat and said 'Amos may have my place, I'm going home.'"

"Now, my friends, if you are about to reach for your hats, bear with me for just a moment as I place my hat on. You were all here when he arrived and some of you met and talked with him, and I count that no mean privilege. This canny Welchman was too wise to talk but we could look and look again on the man who had once held in his hand more power than any human potentate had ever received or dared to handle. Teeming millions, power on land and power on sea and in the heavens above were in his hands. Like Phaethon of old, he had been

ASKS SENATE TO KILL PLAN ON COMPENSATION

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—President James L. McDevitt of the state Federation of Labor today asked the Senate to kill a bill which would set up unemployment compensation on the employer reserve basis in Pennsylvania.

"If this law is given favorable consideration," McDevitt said in a statement, "labor will never be in a position to ask for increased benefits because the fund will never be adequate to provide for the necessary increases x x x."

The measure was submitted by Sen. Lloyd B. Wood (R-Montgomery) and is backed by the Pennsylvania state Chamber of Commerce. The Senate labor committee is expected to consider it next Monday.

At the same time, the Senate committee will pass on three House-passed measures increasing compensation benefit maximums from $20 to $25 a week.

Labor union leaders, including McDevitt, appealed to the Senate group yesterday to boost unemployment compensation benefits to a top of $30 a week and workmen's and occupational disease compensation to $32 and $35 a week.

In addition, Sen. John M. Walker, Republican Senate leader, joined in urging workmen's compensation advancement much beyond those in the administration-backed bills. He told the committee that a man on relief would receive $29.50 a week while an injured woman worker only $25.

PROVISIONS OF NEW RENT LAW ARE REVIEWED

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 31 (AP) — Here's an ABC on the new rent law which keeps controls another 15 months.

The present law ends today. Once President Truman has signed, the new one goes into effect Friday, April 1, and ends 15 months later, June 30, 1950.

Before examining the new law, remember these things:

Tight Woods, called the housing expediter, is rent control boss for the country. His office is here in Washington. Under him are 600 area offices around the country with staffs to handle problems in their areas.

State Option Is New

In those 600 areas are about 800 rent control advisory boards made up of citizens volunteering their time. They advise Woods or his aides on whether they think rents should be raised in their territory or rent controls wiped out entirely there.

Now for the new law which made changes in the present one. The parts which are new will be so labeled in parentheses.

(New) Now any state legislature can wipe out all federal rent control in the whole state or any part of it whenever it wishes.

(New) Any city, town or village — provided the governor of the state approves — can wipe out all federal rent control whenever it wishes.

Just as under the present law, Woods, the housing expediter, can remove controls in any area any time he wishes. If the advisory board recommends that to him, he's pretty sure to do it.

New Powers For Woods

(New) Woods not only can take controls off any area in the next 15 months but also can slap them back on any area he has decontrolled whenever he thinks they're needed.

(New) Landlords must get a "fair net operating income. . . . So far as practicable." What does that mean? At this minute no one knows. Woods will have to work out a formula that can be used around the country.

(New) Apartment hotels in New York and Chicago go back under controls now at the rental they were getting March 1, 1949.

Veterans of World War II still

Seek Local Taxes On State Land

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP) — Legislation to require the commonwealth to pay local taxes on its thousands of acres of land reached the Senate Wednesday.

Passed by the House yesterday, the bills would remove the state's real estate tax exemption in municipalities and school districts.

In addition, they would also double the two-cent an acre charge paid by the state to school districts and townships on state-owned forest lands.

have 30 days' preference in buying or renting a newly built place. But—

(New) Such veterans now have 30 days' preference in buying or renting a place newly converted into living quarters.

(New) Trailers and trailer spaces, which had been decontrolled, are now back under controls for permanent guests.

(New) The housing expediter has been given back his power to control evictions. He can get a court injunction to stop an eviction he thinks is wrong.

No Criminal Penalties

(New) The housing expediter can sue a landlord for three times the amount of rent he's overcharged a tenant. (Under the present, expiring law he could sue only for the amount overcharged.) There still are no criminal penalties for doing anything wrong under the law.

(New) The new law does not authorize further 15 per cent "voluntary" increases in rent. And it recontrols any dwelling decontrolled under such leases, at the rent figure contained in such leases.

Other bills passed by the lower chamber would:

Require restitution of stolen or damaged property by persons convicted of such thefts or damage.

Permit insurance companies to sell all types of insurance under a single policy, except on life or against accidents.

Authorize townships to set up five-man planning commissions to serve without pay.

Provide expense accounts for county commissioners ranging from $300 to $2,000 a year depending on the size of counties.

SENT TO GLEN MILLS

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP) — Judge Robert E. Woodside has directed that a 10-year-old boy charged with pushing Sharol Zimmerman, 5, into the Susquehanna river be sent to Glen Mills school. Woodside, in Dauphin county court, made his decision after a report by Dr. Herbert E. Heim, psychiatrist, who examined the boy held since February 22 on a delinquency charge.

START PLACING $150,000 Gymnasium At Mt. St. Mary's To Be Completed In Fall

PARKING METERS IN EMMITSBURG

Work on the installation of parking meters in Emmitsburg is scheduled to begin this week.

Burgess Thornton Rodgers today announced that the metal standards for the meters have arrived and that the work of drilling holes in the sidewalks for bases for the meters will be done under supervision of Leonard Zimmerman, of Emmitsburg. Zimmerman is scheduled to start his work this week.

The first job will be to drill holes in the sidewalks for the approximately 152 meters. The metal poles will then be placed in concrete. When the standards are installed, a representative of the Michaels Art Bronze company, of Covington, Ky., will come to Emmitsburg to place the meters.

Rodgers said that a penny will allow 12 minutes of parking time, a nickel for an hour.

May Restrict Parking

The burgess and town commissioners are considering limiting the meters in the square and the first blocks off the square to one hour periods and permit parking for two hour periods on the remainder of East and West Main streets. A decision will be reached at the April 12 meeting of the commissioners. At that session the commissioners and burgess will also decide on whether to employ a policeman or policemen to handle the meters and perform other police duties in the town. Several applications for the post have been received, the burgess said.

Under the proposed one and two hour plan, the meters on the square and the first blocks will be so set that they will receive only one nickel at a time to permit 60 minutes of parking. The two-hour meters would be set so that two nickels can be inserted to allow 120 minutes of parking time.

No meters will be placed on North and South Seton avenue, because the state highway department "frowns" on parking on those streets due to their narrowness, Burgess Rodgers pointed out.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg — Charles J. Rowe was removed on Friday to the Mont Alto Veterans hospital, in Washington, D. C., in the VFW ambulance for x-rays and treatments. Mr. Rowe has been confined to his bed for the past six months at the home of his sisters, the Misses Carrie and Elizabeth Rowe.

Sgt. Irvin T. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, South Seton avenue, is visiting his family and relatives here while on a 60-day re-instatement leave from the 7123rd Installation Squadron of the 7100 Headquarters Command Wing in Riebadan Germany. Sgt. Miller was a non-commissioned officer in charge of repair and utilities in the 7100 Wing at the time of his re-instatement in the Air Forces. He has been in Germany since April, 1946. Prior to his first enlistment in January, 1946, Miller was employed by the B. J. Foster contractors of Philadelphia. His wife, Myrtle Betty, together with daughter, Eillene, reside in Emmitsburg.

The Emmitsburg Lions club will sponsor a card party on April 19 for the benefit of improving the Emmitsburg playground. The party will be held at the firemen's hall.

The playground will be open to all the children of the community and town and a supervisor will be on hand to govern. At the card party a radio will be awarded. Lion President Herbert Roger has announced the following committees to assist him in the drive to finance the playground activities: General activities committee — Robert E. Daugherty, chairman, assisted by John Hollinger, Frank Fitzgerald and Herbert Roger; publicity committee, Edward G. Stull and C. A. Elder; properties committee, Guy A. Baker, chairman, Ralph McDonnell, Regis Miller and Philip Sharpe; refreshments — George Gingell, chairman, Howard Carty and Carter W. Linger.

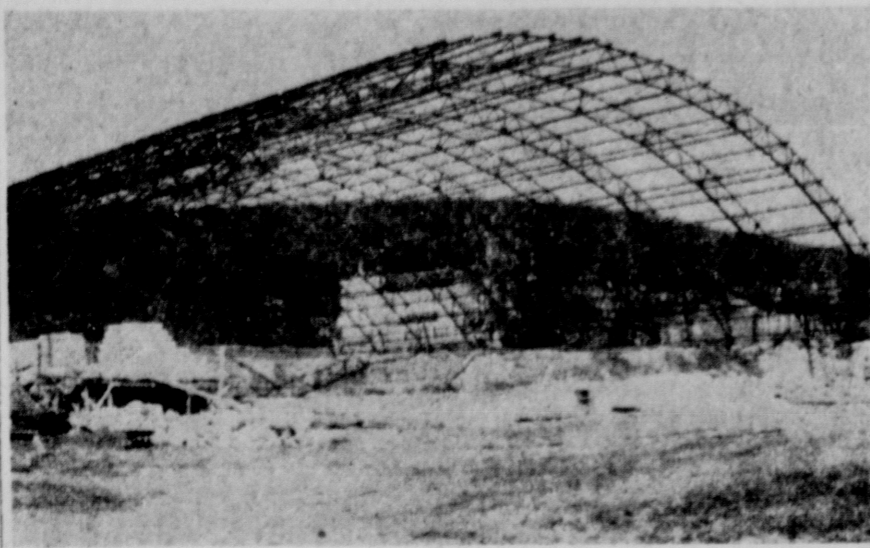

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Humerick and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sherwin and daughters, Martha Jane and Alice Ann, visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seiss of Thurmont.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Altemus and son, Allen, and Mrs. James Brown, all of Washington, D. C., visited on Saturday with Mrs. George Brown and family. Mrs. Brown spent the week-end, while Mr. and Mrs. Altemus and son motored to Harrisburg to visit with relatives returning home on Sunday via Emmitsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hornbecker and daughter, Virginia, of Hagerstown, Mr. and Mrs. George Naylor, the Misses Pauline and Marguerite Bowers spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Naylor, of Washington, D. C.

Miss Catherine Ann Conlin, Washington, is spending some time with her aunts, Miss Louise Sebold and Mrs. James M. Alvey.

"Bud" Burdner, of Pittsburgh, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burdner. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Rhodes and daughter, of Baltimore, spent the Shown above is the framework for the new $150,000 gymnasium being constructed at Mount Saint Mary's college, near Emmitsburg. The building itself is a portable hangar purchased from the armed forces surplus stocks and was secured in order to expedite the construction of a new gymnasium for the school. Both ends of the structure are being finished in native stone to match the remainder of the buildings on the campus.

College officials pointed out that large windows in the end walls will provide a maximum of light and ventilation. The framework is being covered with an aluminum sheeting over a heavy insulating material which will make the structure cool during the summer, due to the reflective property of the aluminum, and warm in winter, due to the heavy insulation.

The front entrances will rise into a large lobby on the ground floor. The main floor of the building will be reached by stairways on both sides

EMMITSBURG TO ELECT TWO

Emmitsburg residents will vote on May 2 for a commissioner and a burgess at the annual town election.

Terms of Commissioner Luther Kugler and Burgess Thornton Rodgers will expire this year. The commissioners are elected for three year terms and the burgess is named annually.

April 5 and April 19 have been set aside as days when residents of the town may register for the forthcoming election. A clerk will sit at the firemen's hall from 2 to 7 p. m. on each of those dates to register the names of those wishing to vote.

Because a general registration was held last year only those who did not register at that time, or who have become 21 since, will need to register at the forthcoming registration, it was announced.

However, borough officials warned, those who wish to vote in both town and county elections have to register twice. Those who registered for the county elections are not automatically registered for the town voting, but will have to register again, if they have not previously done so, in order to vote in the borough elections.

week-end visiting relatives in town. Don Matthews, of New York, a former teacher at Emmitsburg high school, visited over the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Frailey.

A musical sponsored by the Young People's choir of Tom's Creek Methodist church was presented on Sunday evening. The choir participating were: Presbyterian choir at Emmitsburg, Catoctin Young People's choir, Moravian choir of Graceham and Thurmont Methodist choir. Duets were sung by Miss Betty Grimes and Robert Baumgardner, Miss Robertson and Mr. Snyder, of Thurmont, and Mrs. Robert Grimes and Mrs. Luther Cregger, and a solo by Mrs. Adam Grimm, of Thurmont.

Miss Betty Grimes, student nurse at the Frederick Memorial hospital, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes.

DOZEN NATIONS READY TO SIGN ATLANTIC PACT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The foreign ministers of eleven nations are assembling in Washington to join U. S. Secretary of State Acheson next Monday in signing history's most notable alliance of its kind—the Atlantic Defense Pact.

The broad significance of this momentous treaty was summed up by Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian premier and foreign minister, like this: "I'm convinced that since the end of the war and the organization of the United Nations, the Atlantic pact is the world's most important step toward collective security."

Iceland Joins

Specifically—to quote the language of Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, member of the Foreign Relations committee—the "big brother" to other democratic nations, and will create a moral obligation to resist aggression if there is no peaceful way out. When the United Nations has become a real force, he added, then the pact can be dissolved.

This would seem to epitomize the viewpoint of democratic countries. The Russian bloc of course charges that the alliance is a breeder of war.

Iceland, tiny in size but a mighty atom strategically, voted yesterday to join the alliance, making the twelfth nation to subscribe. The others are Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Norway, Denmark, Italy, Portugal, the United States and Canada.

Portugal Is In

Among these nations muster material resources and strategic bases calculated to render them invulnerable to attack from any quarter.

One of the most interesting adherents is Portugal, which is stuck into the side of Spain like a plum in a Christmas pudding. Obviously for Lisbon to endeavor to settle the alliance problem without reference to Madrid, would be like trying to touch your nose with your elbow.

Portugal's problem was delicate because Spain's Generalissimo Franco has been the bad lad of western Europe. However, Portugal initiated conversations with Spain and diplomatic sources in Madrid are quoted as saying that the talks cleared the way for Lisbon to join the alliance.

By the way, it will be worth while to keep an eye out for a possible change in the attitude of western powers toward Spain. Already there has been a quiet easing of hostility to the Franco government.

POSTPONE ACTION

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP) — The Senate Local Government committee postponed temporarily further study of legislation to limit the powers of local municipalities to levy taxes under the 1947 local tax law. Chairman George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton) said a meeting of the committee has been set for Monday but that proposals to revise the local tax law are unlikely to come up.

FACES DEATH IN HOLDUP MURDER

Media, Pa., March 31 (AP)—Found guilty of murder in the first degree in the holdup-slaying of a Chester, Pa., night club manager, Walter Maloney, Jr., 40, of Philadelphia, today faced a death penalty.

The verdict returned by a jury of three men and nine women after slightly more than four hours deliberation yesterday, automatically carries the death penalty.

Maloney was convicted for his part in the holdup-robbery of the 520 club, Chester, in which Jacob Davis, 52, the manager, was slain last Jan. 7.

Another Philadelphia, Alexander Niemi, 29, was convicted last week of first degree murder in connection with the same crime.

Maloney was paroled from a life imprisonment sentence in Eastern

Penitentiary in October, 1946, after serving 17 years for his part in the holdup-slaying of a Philadelphia bank messenger in 1929.

SEE DROP OF ABOUT 10 PCT. IN LIVING COST

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—A decline of about 10 per cent in the cost of living can be expected in the coming year "barring wars and weather," says the U. S. Commissioner of labor statistics.

But there is little reason to anticipate a greater decrease, Dr. Ewan Clague told a meeting of the International Association of Public Employment Services last night. Food prices should continue downward unless buoyed up by the international situation or climatic conditions, he said.

Don't Expect Too Much
Cautioning that the public should not expect too much in the way of adjustment, Dr. Clague said consumer prices neither rise as rapidly or fall as far as wholesale prices. Dr. Clague said rents today are about 20 per cent above their 1924 peak. If controls were to be removed now, he warned, rents would rise substantially and remain high for a number of years.

To offset this, he said, the average weekly earnings of wage-earners also reached their all-time high of $55 last December. This figure, in relation to current prices, gave wage-earners the most effective purchasing power they have had since V-J Day, he declared.

The Darker Side

Unemployment during February reached a postwar high of 370,000 and is likely to increase as much as 600,000 this year, Dr. Clague said. This increase will be caused by school and college graduations and the additional discharge of service men, he explained.

As more and more firms, in a contracting market, are forced to take labor costs into consideration many smaller businesses will go under, Dr. Clague predicted. Marginal workers will lose their jobs in the larger businesses, he said.

Corrosion-resistant stainless steel drums now are used to ship acids and other chemicals in solid or liquid form.

In 1948, the Salvation Army reports, it supplied 22,765,427 meals and 9,294,338 beds.

TRUMAN SIGNS RENT CONTROL BILL INTO LAW

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Rent boosts under the new housing act may be delayed several weeks, while Housing Expediter Tighe Woods makes a survey of landlord income.

President Truman signed the 15-month extension of ceilings last night. He called it an "effective" law, well equipped with enforcement teeth, and a "crushing defeat for the real estate lobby."

Through its home-rule provision, it could ease the government out of the rent regulation business by the process of city-by-city decontrol. Meantime it guarantees landlords a "fair net operating income."

No General Increase

This will bring about numerous rent increases, But President Truman emphasized that it does not mean a general increase for the country's 14,000,000 renting families. The number and size of the increases is in doubt. Because he is uncertain at the moment what a "fair" income would be, Expediter Woods is considering a survey of landlords' costs and income before announcing the government's new yardstick of "fairness."

Such a sampling of costs and rental income would take some time. No immediate rush of landlords for rent boosts is expected, therefore; meantime the old rules governing "hardship" increases will continue to apply.

The rent agency understands that Congress intended some liberalization of ceilings, a spokesman said. There is no ground, he indicated, for the belief voiced by some Republicans during the debate that the "fair income" guarantee might mean merely the continuing of present standards.

On this point, Mr. Truman's statement said the law will help "to correct injustices against landlords." "In particular, the act will be helpful in the case of any small landlords who may not be obtaining an adequate net operating income," the President said.

The Truman statement was notable for its conciliatory tone. It was completely in line with the new White House policy of kindness to Congress.

WORD TROUBLE ON BUSINESS HITS CAPITAL

By CHARLES MOLONY

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Washington is having word trouble, mostly over what to say about business conditions.

The economic word game was going along fine until recently. "Inflation" with its pressures, forces, influences, tides, etc., had a clean monopoly, and seemed pretty well understood by everyone alike after a few years' run.

Then new economic problems came along and today's trouble is, "what's the situation we're in?"

Take Your Choice

"Disinflation," said Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, head of the three-man economic advisory council to the President which the Hoover commission calls a "multi-headed body" and marties call "the three wise men."

"Recession," said Marriner S. Eccles, a member and former chairman of the federal reserve board.

"Depression," said Robert B. Young, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, using a Washington news conference to impart a word that makes this politically conscious city wince.

"Deflation" has become a chorus or community word, with no special titleholder.

Some Of It "Healthy"

It may be that one man's "recession" is another's "disinflation." Or maybe "deflation" might mean a "price collapse." Only if people get "jittery" will disinflation "snowball" into a recession.

"Disinflation," according to Nourse, takes "pressures off prices" while "deflation" might mean a "price collapse." Only if people get "jittery" will disinflation "snowball" into a recession.

Nourse described disinflation so far as "healthy," which happens to be exactly what Eccles said his "recession" has been so far, especially since "some recession is desirable." Young, stuck with a word that is unlikely to go over as "desirable," didn't bother to assess the state of health indicated by his entry.

The general impression seemed to be that if things got a bit worse, they'd be better; if there's less "prosperity" at one time, there may be more of it spread out over a longer period. President Truman has been keeping pretty quiet about economics since "inflation" was on everybody's lips.

Charles Dickens visited the United States in 1842.

Britain's Doctors Organize 'Revolt'

London, March 31 (AP)—Doctors in Britain's socialized health service voted a "revolt" Wednesday and began forming a protective guild to deal with the Labor government.

Despite opposition of some who said the move classified doctors with workers in a trade union, the majority voted to form the guild. It would be called the British Medical Guild and would have a starting treasury of £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) subscribed by doctors.

Topmost issue between the doctors and the government now is money. Under the national health service the government pays doctors 13 shillings ($3.60) a year for each patient registered in his office. The doctors want 35 shillings ($7) for each of the first 1,000 and a sliding scale down to 22 shillings ($4.40) for up to 4,000.

MOONSHINER GUILTY

Scranton, Pa., March 31 (AP)—Raymond Lamarea of Pittston is awaiting sentence after being convicted of operating a large still in Pittston. Federal Judge John W. Murphy deferred sentence yesterday pending an investigation by the probation officer. Earlier in the day Judge Murphy ordered the acquittal of Lamarea's brother-in-law, Nicholas Scarantino, also of Pittston.

The expectation of life at birth for white females in 1946 was almost 71 years.

Life insurance owned in the United States at the end of 1947 totalled $188,000,000,000.

Chapter 13

"What about Panton?" asked Raff. "How did he get along with Bray?"

"All right, I guess," answered Ellen. "They really didn't have very much in common. Panton is sort of a religious fanatic and he used to get pretty shocked at Bray's swearing. But there was no bad feeling there. Panton is such a mouse he couldn't harbor an intense feeling such as hate. And as for actually killing anything—well, my heavens, he thinks it's horrifying even to kill earthworms for laboratory work."

"How did Panton get along with Hubbard?"

"He pretty much kept out of Hubbard's way, although Dr. Hubbard used to go in Panton's office quite often to have a cigarette. He did it just to annoy Panton, I'm sure. He knew Panton had religious scruples against smoking, so every time he wanted a cigarette, into Panton's office he would go. Not that I really minded, to be truthful. Dr. Hubbard used to smoke some special brand of Egyptian cigarettes—I can't remember the name—but the smoke was terrible. It smelled like burning rugs and the odor would linger for hours."

"But Dr. Hubbard developed an allergy to them and had to give up smoking entirely."

Raff was staring at her intently as she spoke. When she finished he said, "Let's go upstairs. I have to call the hospital and then I want to take a quick look at Hubbard's office."

They walked into the building as the noon gong sounded. Upstairs, the corridor and offices were already quiet after the lunch-hour exodus. Ellen excused herself and went down the hall to the room next door to Bray's office. When she returned, Raff had already made his telephone call.

"I've got to get right back to the hospital now," he said, "but the autopsy report is ready. Bray received a hypo of potassium cyanide in the dorsal lumbar region around midnight last night. And another finding," he added slowly, "was that the hypo in the left arm was inserted after death."

For a moment Ellen didn't say a word. Then she quickly turned her back on Raff and stared out the window for a long minute. When she turned around again she was rubbing her eyes hard. When she spoke, the words came out in a rush.

"So it's true! It's an awful hateful thing. But why? He was one of the nicest people in this world. Why would somebody murder him? He wouldn't have hurt anybody. Why did they have to kill him?"

Raff started to say something and then changed his mind. Instead he said gently, "I'm afraid the police will have to be notified."

Ellen's shoulders sagged. "They'll turn up that old story—the very thing Dr. Bray tried so hard to prevent. And now he's dead and he can't do anything about it," she said dully.

"Don't feel that you're letting him down. It's the only thing that we can do."

"But listen," she looked up at him eagerly. "Supposing we could find out who did it, by ourselves, and turned him over to the police, then they wouldn't have to come here and ask a lot of questions and all that."

"I'm afraid this is too big a job. It requires more effort and more time than either of us can give. As it is, I should be back at the hospital right now."

"Couldn't you wait a few days before you called the police?" she begged. "Meanwhile, perhaps I can turn something up. Don't you honestly think that his wife and child deserve some kind of break?"

He didn't say anything for a while. He was thinking that he did owe something to Bray's family. He was thinking that if he had gone over to see Bray last night as Bray had wanted, maybe Bray would not be dead now. But then—he shook his head slowly.

"I'd like to spare Bray's family as much as you. But you don't seem to realize that a murder has been committed. This isn't just one of those little things like being black-balled in a sorority. There's a really dangerous person around here. I'm not so sure it would be wise to go snooping around."

She bit her lip. "Okay. Okay. You're probably right. I guess I'm just a dope. All my life I've found that people are afraid to stick their necks out for things they believe are right. It's unwise. It wouldn't be expedient. I've got my own position to think of et cetera . . . et cetera. Goodness knows, I should be used to such arguments by now."

She turned to go out the door.

"Good-bye, Dr. Rafferty," she called to him. "You'd better get back to your hospital."

"Hey, wait a minute." He reached her in three long strides.

"Listen." He jerked her chin up with his hand so that she had to face him. "I just don't want to see you getting hurt, that's all."

"Thank you." She pushed his hand away. "Maybe I'm a funny person, but there are some things that are even more important to me than not getting hurt."

He glared at her. The muscles in his jaw were working rapidly.

"All right," he said. "I'll tell you what I'll do. This is Friday. I'll wait until Monday. And if we have no clue by then I'll have to call the police. Fair enough?"

"In the meantime," he said very emphatically, "I don't want you to do anything that will make the murderer suspicious of you—no questions—no snooping—no nothing. Understand?"

"That's fine," she said sarcastically. "How are we going to find out anything? By mental telepathy?"

"Never mind. I'll handle it. Right

KEY DEMOCRATS AGREE NATION IS 'HEALTHY'

Washington, March 31 (AP)—Key Democratic Senators agreed today

now I've got to get back to the hospital. But I'll pick you up for dinner tonight. We'll try to map out some plan then. How would six-thirty be?"

"Fine. You can pick me up at my apartment. It's the Normandie."

"Swell. And keep out of trouble until then, see?"

"Right." Her cheeks dimpled. "I'm leaving right now, mister."

"How about a lift?"

"You can drop me off at the Union Cafeteria. It's on the way."

"Incidentally," Raff said, "I noticed that the door to Hubbard's office was locked."

"It always is."

"Do you have a key?"

"No. Nobody but Dr. Hubbard had one. Why?"

"That may complicate matters."

"Well, don't worry about it. I think I can get the key easily enough."

"It would help. But be careful."

They got into his car and drove off.

At that particular moment, upstairs, a key was being neatly fitted in the lock of the late Professor Hubbard's office door!

that the nation is in a period of "healthy readjustment" that probably has removed any present need for the standby controls asked by President Truman.

"There can be no doubt that recent price decreases have reduced demand for controls," Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) told a reporter.

As chairman of the joint Senate-House economic committee O'Mahoney previously had urged the standby authority for the President to invoke selective price and even wage controls to meet dangers of inflation.

"Danger Is Past"

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas, of Illinois, said the presidential controls bill is not on a list of measures now being pushed. And Chairman Maybank (D-S.C.) of the Senate Banking committee said any hearings on controls probably will be delayed for some time.

Senator McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the expenditures committee, said in a separate interview: "Frankly I think the danger of inflation is passed."

All four Democrats agreed with Secretary of Treasury Snyder's press conference estimate yesterday that the nation is "undergoing healthy readjustment" and the business outlook is for continued prosperity.

Snyder said the government could not lower its tax revenue total. That was an apparent rebuff for Congressional suggestions of new tax reductions. But at the same time the secretary made no mention of President Truman's earlier demands for $4,000,000,000 of new taxes. Dr. Edwin G. Nouse, chairman of the economic advisers to the President, failed to plug for government controls yesterday after a White House talk with the President.

In some automobile parts, accuracy must be so great that an error of one ten-thousandth of an inch—about one thirtieth the thickness of a human hair—cannot be tolerated.

About the big trucks Don't be misled by half-truths

You and everyone paying taxes and driving cars and commercial vehicles are vitally interested in the highway damage done by big trucks.

These are trucks. Whether you call them "trucks," "tractors," "semi-trailers," "combination vehicles," or what-not... they are still trucks.

Big trucks that do greatest damage to highways comprise less than 1% of all motor vehicles. Some of their owners are asking the Pennsylvania Legislature to pass House Bill 560 that would increase weight limits... a special law for the benefit of less than 1% of users of public highways.

THE BIG-TRUCK OPERATORS SAY:

"Trucks will not be bigger! Trucks will not be wider or longer. Trucks will not carry heavier maximum gross weights than already allowable... If HB-560 is passed."

THAT IS A MISLEADING HALF-TRUTH. HERE IS THE WHOLE TRUTH.

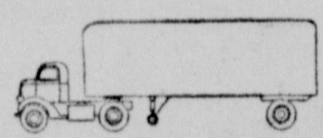

1 House Bill 560 would permit big-truck operators, simply by adding an extra axle, to concentrate their heaviest load on a short wheel-base. This would be highly destructive to highways.

The weight of this vehicle and load would increase from 22½ to 30 tons.

The weight of this vehicle and load would increase from 22½ to 24 tons.

2 The Bill would permit truckers to operate these heaviest loads without stepping up their engine power. That means slower crawling uphill and greater danger to automobile traffic.

This bill would:

- A—Increase highway damage.
- B—Increase loss of life and property.
- C—Increase taxes.

You, the people who are the owners and users of the highways, should oppose this bill.
